

Ex-Intern Claims Foot Doctors Used Derelicts As Guinea Pigs

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne County prosecutor's office is investigating charges by a former intern that a Detroit hospital used derelicts as human guinea pigs in surgical training courses for podiatrists.

Podiatrists are foot specialists. Richard Padzieski, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, said the allegations by Dr. David Touchton, 30, were "absolutely ghastly, like a horror story out of medieval England."

The Detroit Free Press said in today's editions that, "Some of the derelicts claim they were lured into the hospital with offers of money, alcohol and cigarettes, were operated on for hours by doctors and released. Now, the patients claim, their feet are misshapen and in some cases partly paralyzed."

Touchton charged that surgery left some patients in a nearly crippled state.

Touchton's complaint against Civic General Hospital has been turned over to the prosecutor's office along with affidavits from seven derelicts.

Live Subjects
Touchton told the newspaper that Civic General offers surgery courses to out-of-state podiatrists on the basis that they will be able to perform a certain number of surgical procedures on live subjects, ranging from minor corn removals to major bone operations such as bunionectomies.

"They charge these podiatrists, most of them from out of state, $300 to take this course, the only one of its kind in the country," Touchton said.

"What they are doing is selling them live feet to practice on," he said. "After two days of this, the podiatrists go back to their state with a certificate saying they have taken a post-graduate course in surgery.

They never again see the men they've operated on."

Resigned In Protest
Touchton said that he and another intern, Dr. Jeffrey Carrell, resigned from the hospital in 1965 in protest against its operations. Carrell now practices in Buffalo, N. Y.

Touchton said he filed charges against the hospital with the three-member State Board of Registration in Podiatry three years ago.

Dr. Richard C. Lootens, a member of Civic General, said, "We did find at a board hearing in December of 1965 that there was a certain amount of solicitation going on at the hospital and we ordered a tightening up of the intern program."

"But hospital officials told us that none of them was malpractice," Touchton said. "Carrell claimed was going on, did in fact occur and the charts bore them out," Lootens said.

Lootens said the state board did not seek out or interview any of the men or women who claimed to have been operated on because "we didn't have the facilities for such investigation."

No Investigation
Dr. Earl G. Kaplan, a partner and administrator of the hospital, called Touchton's charges ridiculous.

"This man has some kind of gripe against me and the hospital," said Kaplan, a past president of the American Association of Podiatrists. "All you have to do is weigh his reputation against mine and you'll see whether there's anything to these ridiculous charges."

Touchton said he and other interns had been sent out to find derelicts for use in surgery courses at the hospital.

He said he once stopped at the Capuchin Monastery soup kitchen and found a man named

Bud Strong. "He was sober and said he had foot problems," said Touchton. "I took him back to the hospital where he was registered as patient No. 11683."

Touchton said he examined Strong and found he had an open infected wound on his left heel.

Gave Him $10
"Despite the fact that no surgery in this area was indicated, several major procedures were done on Strong's foot," Touchton said.

The Free Press quoted Leonard Sobjack, 50, who lives in an alcoholic rehabilitation center, as saying that in 1962 a nurse and two men in white told him they would take care of "my feet for nothing and give me $10 and cigarettes besides."

a bottle of wine which he gave to me. I drank it at the hospital," Sobjack said.

Sobjack said he was given a bath at the hospital "and that's all. They didn't even take my temperature. I have epilepsy but they didn't ask me anything about it and the next morning they gave me a shot and take me in to be operated on."

Chip Away Bone
"There were about five doctors there and one supervisor," he said. "Well, they started to cut and they were using a silver hammer and a chisel of some sort to chip away at the bone and there was bucket there to catch the blood. And I saw that they were practicing on me, you know, and I got really mad."

"I said, 'You're just practicing, let me out of here.' And I tried to get up but they held me down and just kept cutting away," Sobjack said. "But I was groggy and couldn't do anything. I must have been in there for five or six hours."

No Balance
The big toes of Sobjack's feet are purple and point out at a fifty-degree angle. He says there is no feeling or movement in the smaller toes and he must wear shoes two sizes larger than normal.

"I can hardly walk, the pain is so bad sometimes, and I got no balance at all," Sobjack said.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement Kern, a member of the hospital board of trustees, is pastor of the inner-city Holy Trinity Church which has an arrangement with Civic General allowing interns to treat indigent patients from his parish.

Msgr. Kern said that Kaplan "has a very high reputation in his field and I have never heard any complaints about the way his men have worked here."

Studies Show ABM Costs To Top $13 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private study indicates the Safeguard antimissile system's ultimate cost may top $13 billion—66 per cent more than official estimates.

Disclosure of the study Thursday prompted immediate assertions, notably by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., that the maneuvering over Safeguard "has created a credibility gap for the Nixon administration."

The study, by the Defense Marketing Survey, a McGraw-Hill Service for industrial firms, estimated the cost of Safeguard between 1969 and 1975 at more than $11 billion.

The study did not include $1.2 billion to be spent by the Atomic Energy Commission on nuclear warheads and its cost estimates for Safeguard's radar and Sprint missiles were more than $1 billion less than calculated by other experts.

Critics were quick to point out that adding in these figures would bring the total to more than $13 billion, compared with the current official administration estimate of $7.8 billion.

"In a program as complex as Safeguard," the study concluded, "historical experience indicates costs in the long run are likely to be considerably higher."

Sen. McGovern, a leading critic of Safeguard, said "It has not reached the stage yet of the Johnson administration's credibility gap on Vietnam, but it's reaching toward it."

Drop 30 Saints

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Nearly 30 saints were dropped today in a drastic revision of the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church.

Among those dropped were St. Christopher, patron of travelers and the figure in millions of St. Christopher medals; St. Barbara, and St. Susanna, for whom the American Roman Catholic church in Rome is named.

Jaycees

LANSING (AP) — Some 3,000 Michigan Jaycees assembled in Lansing today for their two-day annual state convention. The main order of business at the convention is election of a new president and other officers.

Dispute Halts Work On College Building

Construction work on Bay de Noc Community College's new vocational-technical laboratory building was halted this morning when Local 324 International Union of Operating Engineers, began picketing the site in a dispute with Olsen & Flath Contractors of Escanaba, general contractor for the project.

Members of other unions employed on the project respected the picket lines. Keith Harris of Escanaba, vice president and business representative for the Operating Engineers, said the pickets were ordered when Olsen & Flath refused to sign a contract with the union.

At "Stalemate"
He said the union has been negotiating with the contractors, but believes the situation will be at a "stalemate" until Monday when other employees have left the construction site in Escanaba's Industrial Park along the Danforth Rd.

Harris said equipment on the site, specifically a front end loader, which should be operated by a member of the Operating Engineers union, was being operated Thursday by William Flath.

Flath is not a member of the Operating Engineers union and should not be running the equipment, Harris said, adding that the company has steadily refused to sign a contract with the union.

Neither Flath nor Harold Olsen of Escanaba, partners in the firm, were available for comment this morning.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of the Community College, said that any prolonged delay in construction could cause severe problems for the community college this fall.

The college had hoped to occupy the building by Sept. 1 in time for the opening of fall semester classes.

Students Accepted
"We've already accepted students for new programs which we plan to begin in the new building," he said.

The Community College, which is presently housed in the former Escanaba High School building in Escanaba, plans to begin courses in industrial machine technology, electrical technology and water-waste-water technology using the new building in September. In addition, the building also will contain classrooms and biology, physics and chemistry laboratories.

"It's certainly not our intent to hold up the college," Harris said, "but this is the only alternative we had."

Harris said no specific negotiating meetings have been scheduled with the contractors, but he indicated he believed the dispute will be settled in the near future.

The building is the first under construction for the community college at its new site. Additional construction is scheduled in the near future on the new campus.

Golden Rules For Drivers

LONDON (AP) — "Ten Commandments" for motorists, published in the parish magazine of St. Mary's Church, Worcester Park, a south London suburb:

1. Thou shalt hold only the steering wheel.
2. Thou shalt not make unto thee a God of thy horsepower.
3. Thou shalt not take the center lane in vain.
4. Remember the driver behind to help him pass thee.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother and all other passengers.
6. Thou shalt not kill.
7. Thou shalt not commit inebriated driving.
8. Thou shalt not steal — not thy neighbor's eyes with thy headlights, nor his ear with thy horn, nor his enjoyment with thy litter.
9. Thou shalt not bear false witness with thy signals.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbors' right of way.

U.P. Mine To Be Closed

CRYSTAL FALLS — The Bristol mine of the Inland Steel Co. will close in July.

Philip D. Pearson, general manager for the domestic mines of Inland said, Thursday that the "continued lessening demand for Bristol-type ore has necessitated the company's decision to discontinue operation of the mine."

The Bristol was the last operating mine in the Crystal Falls area.

Only two Iron County mines now apparently will remain open, although future of both is in doubt.

Inland also operates the Sherwood mine at Iron River.

The Hanna Mining Co., operator of the Homer — Wauseca mine in Iron River, announced last fall that the mine would be phased out because of lack of demand for the type of ore found in the area.

125 Employees
Pearson said today that many of the 125 employees at the Bristol will qualify for early retirement pensions.

Further, he said, the company expects to be able to offer employment at other Inland operations to those who are willing to leave this area.

Inland also operates the Inland Lime and Stone crushing plant at Gulliver, near Manistique. A new taconite mine and pellet plant is expected to begin operations later this year at Black River Falls, Wis.

Shutdown of the Bristol will begin this month and will continue until the mine is closed, Pearson said.

The Bristol was opened in 1892, and operated almost continuously until 1932, when it closed during the Great Depression.

Reopened In 1948

Inland purchased the property in 1938 and reopened the mine in 1948. The operation has been continuous since that time. Approximately 15 million tons of ore have been shipped from the Bristol.

Viet Cong Offensive To Force Coalition

Conservatives Romp Over Wilson's Laborite Party

LONDON (AP) — The Conservatives reigned supreme in town halls across Britain today after routing Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites in local elections for the third straight year.

The balloting Thursday did not reduce Wilson's 71-seat majority in the House of Commons. But more than 600 Labor party workers were thrown out of local offices, and the party's chances in the national elections Wilson must call within the next two years looked dimmer than ever.

The voting left Labor in control of only 25 of the 368 town councils in England and Wales. The Laborites hold none of the major cities.

Greater damage was done last year when Labor lost London and other town halls that had not known a Tory mayor for generations. This time Labor lost control of 13 towns, won back one and saw its minority dwindle everywhere else. There was no voting in London boroughs this time.

The Labor losses had been expected. Public opinion polls continually show the resentment of voters against the government that devalued the pound in 1967, raised taxes and put on other unpopular austerity measures, yet still has not solved the nation's economic problems.

Ironically, Wilson's position as party chief appeared strengthened despite the election defeat. His Cabinet agreed Thursday that Wilson must stay as prime minister and informed the party of this decision. This quashed for the moment agitation by a group of Labor MPs who want Wilson replaced. The plotters were left without a serious alternate.

Remove Ceiling On Parochial Aid

LANSING (AP) — Supporters of parochial aid agreed Thursday to deletion of a clause in the state school aid bill which would fix a $44 million ceiling on the 1970-71 appropriation for subsidies to nonpublic schools.

The move followed a news conference remark by Gov. William Milliken earlier this week suggesting that the Legislature take another look at the plan to include a specific figure for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

The school aid bill, awaiting action on the House floor, now calls for a token $10,000 appropriation for the 1969-70 year to cover administrative costs of looking up for parochial aid the following year.

No Objection
Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, who authored the parochial aid provision, told newsmen he would have no objection to withdrawing the $44 million provision.

"It's not significant," he said, "and the exact level for 1970-71 will be determined by the Legislature next year regardless of what's in the bill."

Removal of the $44 million clause was planned by Rep. William Weber, R-Kalamazoo, a foe of parochial aid.

"This kind of thing is for the Legislature to determine next year," Weber told a reporter.

Parochial aid strategists, led by Traxler and House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, have agreed that their primary goal at this legislative session is to get the principle established, with implementation to follow later.

Fit Guidelines
Milliken told reporters at his weekly news conference that the $100,000 administration provision generally fit the guidelines outlined in his education message earlier this year.

But he questioned the $44 million clause.

"The Legislature may want to ask whether it is appropriate," he said, pointing out that there was no such clause pertaining to public schools.

Ryan said he believes the question raised over the $44 million wording was more political than substantive.

"It's a reassurance for supporters of the program," he said. "But for opponents it's apparently a red flag. It boils down to which consideration outbalances the other."

Floor debate on the $845 million school aid bill is expected to begin next week. It promises perhaps the most heated controversy of the legislative session.

The school aid bill, awaiting action on the House floor, now calls for a token $100,000 appropriation for the 1969-70 year to cover administrative costs of tooling up for parochial aid the following year.

Requirements
The National Liberation Front (NLF), political arm of the Viet Cong, put forward a 10-point peace program at the Paris talks Thursday. It included a coalition government and withdrawal of all American forces.

The Viet Cong document made public in Saigon outlined these requirements for the summer offensive:

—It must be more aggressive, stronger and more painful to the Americans and the South Vietnamese than the spring offensive launched Feb. 23.

—It must succeed in destroying, wearing down, and disintegrating more American potential, more main force South Vietnamese troops, and especially more South Vietnamese village and hamlet officials.

—It must destroy large amounts of allied war materials and supply facilities.

News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to have his Paris envoys begin checking the Viet Cong 10-point peace plan today to determine if it is a propaganda move or an indication of a serious intent to start meaningful talks.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charges of a "credibility gap" on the Safeguard missile program are reverberating in Washington today in the wake of a private study indicating the ultimate cost at more than $13 billion—66 per cent more than official estimates.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top military officers are reportedly trying to get the Nixon administration to delay arms control talks with the Soviet Union until after the U.S. test of the multi-headed missiles this summer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch, denies he is at odds with other top administration officials, but says cutting off federal funds to schools caught up in campus disorders is a "meat-ax approach" that penalizes innocent students.

Captured Plan To Push Early U.S. Withdrawal

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's high command has called for a summer offensive in South Vietnam to force the Saigon regime to agree to a coalition government and compel the United States to withdraw troops from the country, according to a captured document made public today.

The U.S. mission said the document was issued by the Central Office for South Vietnam, the Viet Cong's supreme headquarters.

"The importance of the summer (offensive) should be clearly pointed out," the document said. "It is a very important phase intended to compel the enemy . . . to accept serious negotiations with us, to withdraw troops, to recognize the National Liberation Front, and to accept a coalition government."

The document gave no timetable for the new offensive, but documents captured earlier have indicated it would start in May or June.

The document also called for incitement of a general uprising among the population, and "liberation of hamlets and wards when the situation is favorable."

The document said the Communists "do not intend to attain the (final) victory overnight or in a single phase . . . The victory will not come to us in such an easy way, but it will come in a difficult and complicated way. It will be a limited victory and not a clearcut, complete victory."

The document termed the spring offensive a success which had upset President Nixon's plans.

"We did not conduct any phase (offensive) from September to February," the document said. "This made Nixon think

City College Prexy Resigns

By The Associated Press

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of strife-ravaged City College of New York announced today he is resigning effective Monday morning.

Gallagher said "politically motivated outside forces" had made it impossible for him to "carry on the processes of reason and persuasion."

Two days ago City College was the scene of a bloody racial clash and on Thursday fighting continued and a major fire heavily damaged a campus auditorium.

Officials at Indiana University ended a confrontation with black students with the promise of expanded negotiations.

Bloodmobile Meets Quota

Red Cross Bloodmobile officials were hoping for a large turnout of donors today at the Teamsters Hall in Escanaba to exceed the quota for the three-day visit.

Mrs. Edith Olsen, blood procurement chairman, said a total of 121 units were collected in Escanaba Thursday, bringing the two-day total for Escanaba and Gladstone to 171 units, exactly matching the two-day quota.

Collection of 109 units of blood was needed today to equal the three-day total.

The 121 units collected Thursday exceeded by 12 the day's goal and made up the 12 units the bloodmobile was short in its visit at Gladstone Wednesday.

Thursday, there were 38 persons who kept appointments and 88 walk-ins. Five of the persons who came to the building were rejected before giving blood.

Mrs. Olsen reported that the O negative blood needed for heart surgery on a 10-year-old Antigo, Wis., girl was collected.

Informed Lumber Yard Dealer Is Valuable Ally

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you have a hardware or lumber yard dealer who shows a genuine interest in giving you advice about the products he sells, hang on to him as you would a life preserver in a raging sea.

The multiplicity of items on the home repair and improvement market these days has made it increasingly difficult to keep track of what is now available. Entirely aside from the numerous brands, new types of gadgets, paints and building materials are constantly adding to the gigantic pile of purchasable choices which confront the consumer.

Somehow, thousands of hardware and lumber yard owners (alas, far fewer employees) manage to keep up with the parade of products. They seem to know instantly what they have in stock that will be of help to you, more so, it seems, than in most other businesses that deal directly with the public. Even more important, they can be of invaluable help in solving your problems. We asked one neighborhood hardware dealer why this appeared to be so.

"Because," he said, "a man doesn't go into the hardware business unless he has had plenty of practical experience in working around the house. If he does, the chances are he won't be in business very long. But people buy all kinds of other businesses without knowing very much about them. Most of the men I know who own hardware stores once made their living at some form of repair or installation work."

Do many customers ask for advice?

"Many do—but a lot more don't. And some of those who don't, later discover that they bought something which wasn't exactly what they wanted. A simple question at the time of purchase would have avoided the mistake. You know, many men are afraid to ask questions for fear it will show their lack of knowledge."

Does that apply to women as well?

"Not nearly as much. If women aren't sure that what they're buying is what they actually need, they'll tell you what the problem is and ask your advice. And you'd be surprised how many female customers we have, whereas years ago we wouldn't get more than one or two in a whole day."

One way to get more attention when you need advice is to shop at the hardware store or lumber yard on a weekday rather than a Saturday. A dealer who will spend 10 or 15 minutes explaining something to you on a weekday just can't spare the time on a Saturday, his busiest day. But weekday or Saturday, the store which does a little more than merely take your order is one to cherish.

Ishpeming Firm Below Estimate

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department received a pleasant surprise Thursday when bids were opened for construction of 8.3 miles of I 69 in Calhoun County.

The low bid, entered by the A. L. Lindberg & Sons Construction Co. of Ishpeming, was $1.52 million below the estimated cost of $7.9 million. In fact, 29 of the 40 bids submitted for the project were below the highway department's estimate.

The Highway Department is currently analyzing the bids and was expected to announce the award of the contract today. A department official said the Lindberg bid was "holding up."

The official said he did not know if the surprisingly low bid came because the Highway Department overestimated the cost or because contractors are becoming more competitive with the decline in highway contracts.

Must Register Motorboat, Says State Official

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports that his office has registered only 36 per cent of Michigan's 437,000 motorboats.

"Since the new three-year motorboat registration cycle began last January, 158,000 boats have been registered."

According to Hare, all motorboats in Michigan must be registered or re-registered this year before they can be legally used on the state's waterways.

"If it is motor-propelled," he said, "it must be registered under Michigan law. This includes rafts, sailboats, rowboats, houseboats, canoes, and everything else used for water transportation. Size of the motor doesn't matter."

Owners wishing to register a new motorboat should obtain the bill of sale from their dealer and take it with them. Purchasers of boats from individuals should bring along the previous owner's registration and a use tax statement.

Must Drive Away 'Born Free' Lions

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Peter Jenkins, park warden at Meru, and the board of directors of Kenya's national parks directed that Adamson drive the three lions away after teaching them to distrust man.

"Instilling this fear in the lions will be very difficult and particularly so for me," Adamson said. "Anybody who has owned a dog might understand that to have to start kicking it around is not easy."

Adamson's savings and his limited game warden's pension have gone into his camp. There he has been observing the lions' habits. Some of his scenes were shown in a documentary on his work, "The Lions are Free," shown recently in the United States and England.

The British acquired the Rock of Gibraltar in 1704, when they captured it during the War of the Spanish Succession.

Three lions called Boy, Girl and Uggus have lived in peace and amity with Adamson for the past five years. He has a camp at Mugwongo, in Meru National Park about 180 miles from Nairobi. The camp is fenced to keep the lions out, but he built a platform outside for them to sun themselves.

Nine lions hang around there, and Adamson has recorded their daily activities in notebooks and on film.

There had been pressure before for Adamson to part with the lions, the idea being that while he knew how to handle them, they might approach other humans who wouldn't. Then Boy injured the young son of

Recreational Cure-All

One of the more hazardous pastimes is to forecast what the voters will do. Few people, for instance, would have given 30 cents for the passage of the $100 million recreation bond issue in Michigan on Nov. 5, 1968.

But it did win approval, without much help from either of the state's extremities. The proposal failed to pass in Wayne County and it carried in only two (Delta and Chippewa) counties in the Upper Peninsula.

After the reality of $100 million was achieved, just about everyone and his aunts and uncles decided this was for them. Detroit officials and metropolitan recreational advisors, coming late to the party, thought it would be only equitable if most of the recreational funds went to help cure those nagging inner city blahs.

Gov. Milliken, his sympathies aroused, advocated a formula for distribution of the $100 million that is weighted heavily toward the urban areas.

But a couple of Upper Peninsula natives are making determined efforts to have the recreational funds allocated according to the formula on which it was sold and adopted by the voters — 70 per cent for state-wide recreational projects and 30 per cent for urban areas.

They are Rep. Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistiquette) and James L. Rouman, a native of Gladstone and former Escanaba coach who is now executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Rep. Varnum worked hard on behalf of the bond issue and can claim at least some of the credit for its passage, since the two northern counties that gave it approval are both within his district. Therefore he may with justification say, as he did at a recent House and Senate conservation committees hearing in Escanaba:

"I hate to disagree with the Governor of my state who also happens to be the head of my party, but I can't support anything but the 70-30 split."

Never lacking in political courage, Rep. Varnum spoke also from the certainty that since it was difficult to sell the $100 million bond issue in November, 1968, it would be even more problematical to judge the actions of the voters in the future if the state fails to keep faith with them.

Rouman of the MUCC summed it up this way:

"Newspaper editorial comment, letters to the editor, and a heavy volume of mail to MUCC can mostly be boiled down to one sentence: 'If the 70-30 allocation is changed, don't ever ask us to vote for a program of this kind again.'"

He further emphasized: "If Michigan voters cannot trust their government to keep its pre-election promises, neither can that government expect the voters to fall twice into the same trap."

Detroit is not unique in having problems in satisfying the recreational needs of its people. There are probably few communities in Michigan that will not benefit from receiving some of the recreational bond money. But the original allocation of 70 per cent for state-wide recreational facilities will be of most benefit to the largest number of people.

No doubt one of the major beneficial effects would be to encourage inner city residents to find new experiences, new environment, and new recreational contact outside the metropolitan area. Recreation alone is no cure for the sociological problems of the ghetto.

The Despoilers

According to the familiar stereotype, the archenemy of all good conservationists is the selfish businessman who despoils the countryside for profit. Today, however, a threat to part of America's heritage proceeds from a new source: The bureaucrats of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In their plans to dam the Little T, a stream in Eastern Tennessee, these officials are proving to be as unresponsive to the interests of the public as the earlier despoilers. They insist upon building a dam which is both unnecessary and destructive of a valuable part of Americana.

As described by Supreme Court Justice and conservationist William O. Douglas, the Little T is one of the finest trout streams in the Southeast United States. He writes of it as "a picturesque free-flowing river enjoyed by canoeists and a host of others seeking an escape to an unspoiled natural setting."

Along its banks are sites sacred to the Cherokee Indians, among them Chota, the Cherokee capital since the mid-1700s.

The rich soil of the river's bottomlands each year produces several million dollars worth of dairy and agricultural products.

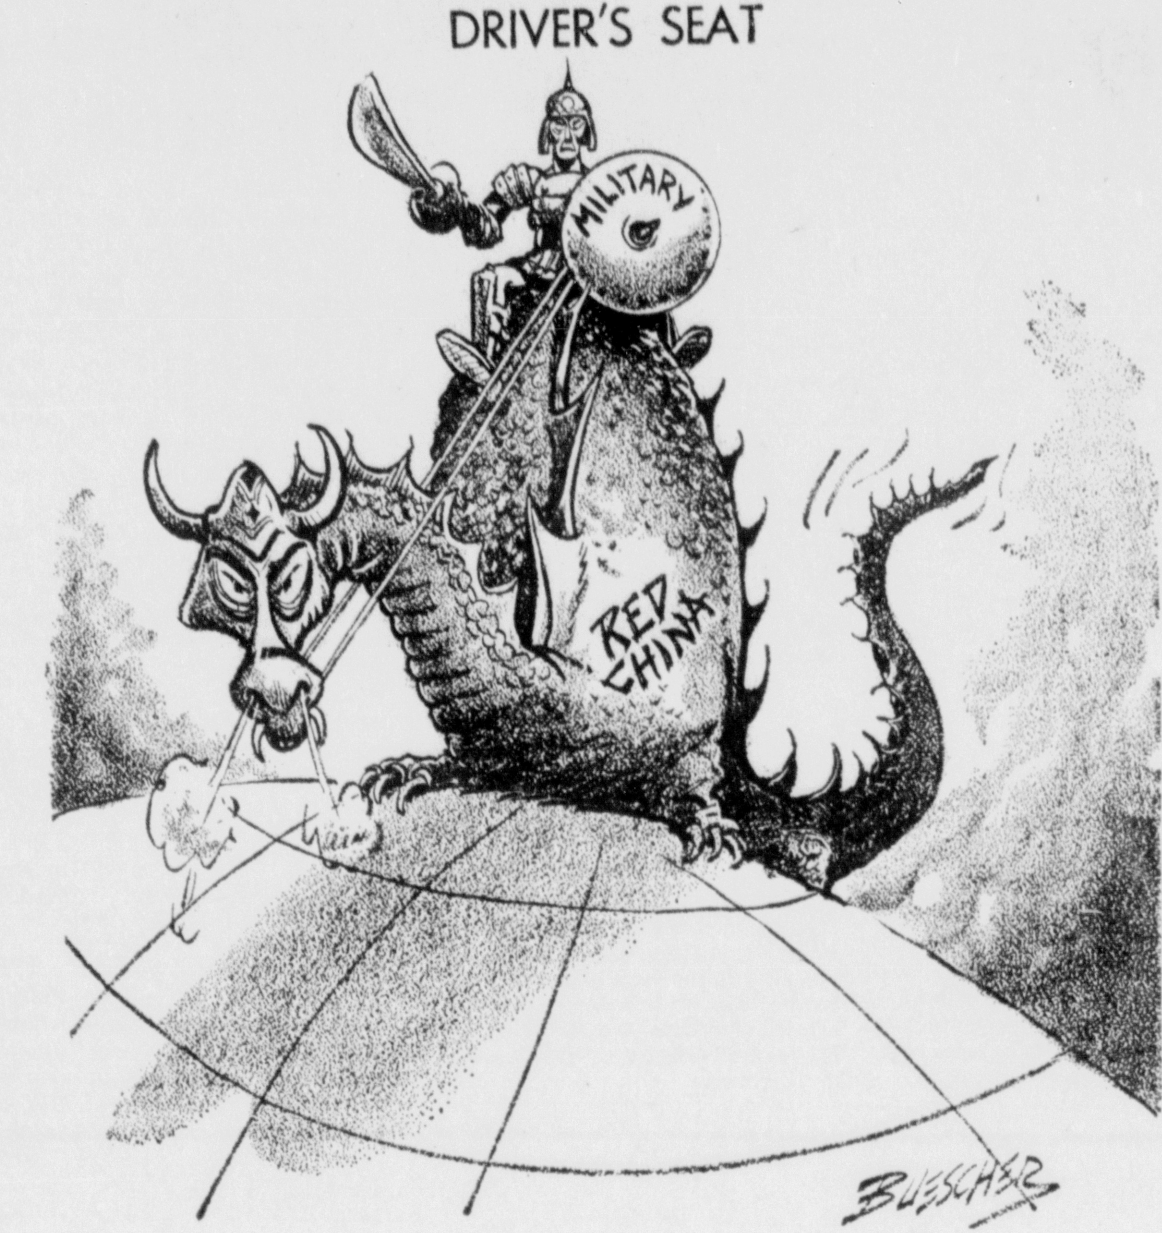

All of these assets would be flooded. And for what purpose? The answer is a TVA dam which could just as easily not be built. According to Justice Douglas, the project is "not particularly needed for flood control nor for power."

The apparent purpose of this publicly subsidized dam is open to the Little T area to industrial and commercial exploitation and perpetuate TVA officials in their jobs. After all, they have to do something to justify their existence since their original task of flood control and power development is all but complete. Incidentally, the dam may also please some boat owners and water skiers.

For such dubious considerations as these, an important part of America's natural beauty and heritage may be sacrificed — unless public pressures can be brought to bear on our new breed of despoilers.

World Currency Is Facing 5th Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — The shocks are becoming too common, the dangers too great, the efforts to avert chaos too difficult for the present world currency exchange system to remain unchanged.

Once again a crisis exists, the fifth major one in the past 18 months involving the currencies of big international trading nations. Such frequency indicates that crises are built into the system.

The present one involves the currency of West Germany, which appears to be undervalued, and the French franc, which may be overvalued. It could also involve the British pound, which has remained shaky despite devaluation.

The criticism of the present system generally has been that it is too rigid, that it forces nations to insist that their currency has been maintained at its stated value when nobody really believes this to be so.

Fixed Rates
This system of fixed exchange rates obliges a government to step in and support the price of its currency, to buy its own money in order to keep the price within one per cent of the stated level.

Then, when the nation no longer can do so, a crisis develops and devaluation is the only way out. A currency that is worth $2.80 one day might be worth only $2.40 the next. This can be a serious shock to trade.

This system, arranged in 1944 at the famous Bretton Woods, N.H., monetary conference, was intended to avert the destructive nationalistic policies of the 1930s, a decade of depression.

During those years one country after another devalued its currency in order to obtain a competitive advantage over its neighbor. But the near fatal result was a lessening of world trade.

Works Wonders
By keeping exchange rates fixed, the conference members hoped, one nation would feel confident when it arranged long-term investments in another nation's economy. And it has worked out that way.

Despite defects, the system of fixed exchange rates has worked wonders, and world trade has prospered. But, in the opinion of many bankers and economists, it may not be suited to present times.

There is a reason for this, and it is called full employment. Once nations were willing to rout inflation and pay off international debts by getting their economies in order. This often meant deflation, and deflation meant fewer jobs. No longer is this corrective method acceptable.

Nations today seek full employment and full employment often results in inflation, or a dilution in the stated value of a currency. But remember: Reality aside, that currency value is fixed.

Floating Rate
The suggestions for bringing the exchange systems up to date range widely. Some economists would like to see no fixed rates; they would permit the value of currencies to float on a sea of supply and demand.

The chief criticism of this suggestion is that nations might not make long-term commitments to each other without some assurance of the future value of a currency. A fixed rate gives more assurance than a floating rate.

Another suggestion is to keep the fixed rate but permit more than one per cent fluctuation. Thus, when a nation has difficulties in supporting its currency it will have more room to maneuver and buy time.

The problem here is that rather than correcting the weakness in its economy that causes its currency to seem overvalued, a nation might simply adjust to the wider permissible fluctuation.

In the final analysis, the only real solution is for nations to live economically and pay their bills to each other within reasonable times.

Letters To The Press

MOTHER'S DAY

Again we honor and pay tribute to our dear Mothers both living and dead. Should we not consider for a moment the Mother of all Mothers—Mother Nature both living and dead?

All of us are an integral part of our environment. Mother Nature embraces all existing things, the air we breathe, the fields, the lakes and streams, the mountains and forests, the wild creatures and human beings. We are a part of it, and we must live in concert with it.

Why are we now so disturbed about pollution of our air and water? It is not simply because we have become more refined and aesthetic, but because we are beginning to realize that we have reached a critical point in human habitation of the earth.

As far back as 1947 the question before a conference at Princeton University was "the fate of man." Would we go the way of the dodo and the dinosaur or would we take our destiny in our own hands and make a better creature of ourselves? Opinion was divided.

There was no split of opinion at the UNESCO headquarters in Paris last year when more than 200 experts from 50 countries met in conference. Within 20 years, they decided life on our planet will be showing the first signs of succumbing to pollution. The atmosphere will become unbreathable for both man and animals. Life will cease in rivers and lakes, plants will wither from poisoning.

The biosphere is a part of the earth and its atmosphere contains living things. In this layer, only a few miles thick, man is creating far-reaching imbalances. He is threatening the stability of his own ecology by destroying resources and burdening his environment with waste products of his own activities.

As cities and industries grow, the problem of refuse inherent in urban and rural life attains the size of an insoluble problem. All the host of air-borne

Contract Bridge

By B. JAY BECKER

You are south, both sides vulnerable, and have the following hand:

♠ K10985 ♥ 763 ♦ A103 ♣ J2

1. North bids One Diamond, you respond One Spade, and North bids Three Diamonds. What would you bid now?

2. North bids One Club, you respond One Spade, and North bids Three Clubs. What would you bid now?

3. West bids One Notrump (16 to 18 points), North doubles, and East passes. What would you bid now?

4. North bids One Spade and East doubles. What would you bid now?

5. North bids One Heart, you respond One Spade, and North bids Two Spades. What would you bid now?

1. Four diamonds. The jump to three diamonds is not forcing—it is merely invitational—but you should respect it in this case because you have a better hand than you might have had for the spade response. The only real problem is whether to raise diamonds or bid spades again to show a 5-card suit. It is better to bid four diamonds, which has the incidental advantage of allowing partner to show secondary support for spades, if he has three of them. A three-spade bid at this point would suggest a better suit, but, more important than that, it would suppress the diamond support North is entitled to know about.

2. Three diamonds. Again you respect North's jump bid, but this time your most constructive move is to bid a suit that, strictly speaking, is non-biddable. Its chief purpose is to enable partner to bid three notrump with the appropriate heart strength. At the same time, the three diamond bid leaves room for North to show belated spade support.

3. Pass. North shows the same strength as West by his double, and it is therefore clear that West is bound to fail at one notrump doubled by several tricks. The pass is consequently clearly indicated.

4. Three spades. The jump raise to three over the double is purely preemptive and by no means forcing. Normally it shows five trumps and 5 to 8 points in high cards, but the strength may vary, depending upon distribution.

5. Pass. The winning bid is a pass, although, theoretically, partner may have a hand good for ten tricks. In most deals you will make only eight or nine tricks, and it simply is not worth jeopardizing the part score by bidding again. Including his distributional values, North, on an average, will have 14 or 15 points for his raise — and this prospect is too unattractive to justify a further try for game.

Ann Landers

Can't Tell His Girl He's To Be Priest

Dear Ann Landers: I am 19 and have decided that in September I will enter the seminary to begin my study for the priesthood. I've thought about this for a long time and it's what I really want.

No problem? Not quite. Since August I've been dating a lovely girl. I love her, Ann, and I know she loves me. How do I tell her of my decision to become a priest? I've tried but nothing can make me say it.

I continue to date her—with lips sealed. I'd like to continue to date her until I leave for the seminary, and of course when I come home for vacations. Am I selfish? Have I really made up my mind?—Dilemma

Dear Dil: I consulted with a Catholic priest who said: The longer you put off telling the young lady of your plans, the less chance you have of becoming a priest. Furthermore, my consultants pointed out that you are not only selfish but dishonest. You want the enjoyment of the relationship but not the personal responsibility. The answer to your last question is emphatically no.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister is a wonderful gal but sometimes she acts as if she has the mind of a peanut. It's hard to believe she went to Wellesley.

Every week or ten days I get a letter from Sally. I wouldn't dare open the envelope in front of anyone because I never know what will fall out. She has written on brown paper sacks, shirt cards and Unitarian Church bulletins (scrawled in heavy ink over the type). Yesterday I received an eight-page letter on paper toweling—the kind you find in a wash-room.

I've never said a word about her kooky writing paper but maybe it's time I spoke up. Yes or no?—Sick Of Surprises

Dear S.O.S.: Sally probably enjoys an offbeat trademark and there's nothing wrong with it—but if it bugs you, send her some stationery. You can buy a big box at the dime store for less than a dollar.

Dear Ann Landers: You made a grave error and I hope you will be big enough to admit it. In replying to "St. Louis Woman," you said: "Diabetes is an illness." This is not true. Diabetes is the malfunction of the pancreas gland.

My grandson has diabetes and he is an excellent student and cannot be considered sick by any standard. Doctors will also tell you that diabetes is usually more intelligent than others.

Please print this letter and set the record straight.—Up-holder Of Accuracy

Dear Up: Many people who have diabetes function extremely well and do not consider themselves sick. And this is good.

But by definition diabetes is an illness. There actually are two unrelated diseases with the name—diabetes mellitus, caused by the failure of the pancreas to produce insulin; and diabetes insipidus, which is related to a disorder of the central nervous system. The former disease is what is commonly meant by the term diabetes. As you say, thousands of people live happy, productive lives in spite of it, and I'm sure your grandson will do very well.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

CHICAGO (AP) — Girls are being allowed to apply for positions as Chicago lifeguards for the first time in 20 years, but they will be situated at some of the city's 103 pools, not at the beaches.

The official explanation is that girls are not considered capable of strenuous beach duty, which includes rowing and carrying heavy equipment.

Green Up Your Lawn

By Sheila and Allan Swenson
NEA Garden Specialists

This year go all out for a great green lawn. You'll be the envy of the neighborhood.

You can assure a healthy lawn by following a sound and simple program of turf grass care and maintenance. It need not take great effort.

First step. Remove accumulations of dead grass, leaves and other debris that chokes off sunlight and water. Remove dead grass with a rotary mower that cuts, vacuums and bags clippings, leaves and debris. If you have a reel mower, rake after mowing with a broom-type rake to avoid pulling up grass.

Aerate Soil

Aerate the soil with power or hand aerators. You can rent them in most areas or swap with neighbors. Aeration corrects compaction, lets water and nutrients penetrate to the grass roots.

Use a complete fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorous and potash. Supplement with periodic nitrogen feedings in late spring and summer if needed. Rates vary by fertilizer formulation, so read and follow recommendations. Don't overdo it. You can burn grass by using excess fertilizer. Don't feed when grass is wet.

Consider the need for lime this year. Most lawns east of the Mississippi need periodic lime applications for the best growth.

Lime Early

If you lime, use ground limestone at 50 pounds per 1,000 square feet every two to four years. It takes time to work in, so plan to lime early.

Weeds, insects and diseases can attack lawns. But you have handy, safe weapons in the weed and bug war. Many fertilizers now contain herbicides to kill broad-leaved weeds. Otherwise, spot spray with 2,4-D and 2,4,5-TP herbicides. Avoid valuable shrubs. Herbicides are meant to kill weeds, so make sure you only spray weeds. Don't apply them on windy days.

Control Water

Controlled watering is a key factor in happy lawns. An inch or two per week is generally needed. New equipment can do the job and crawl around at night, turning on and off automatically.

Mowing can be simple. Cut cool season grasses at 1 to 1 1/4 inches during spring to thicken the turf. In warmer weather, raise the cut to 1 1/2 to 2 inches. Cut warm season grasses from 3/4 to 1 inch to encourage lateral growth and dense turf.

This year, green up your lawn and enjoy it.

Save your temper--buy quality tools.

Smart Gardeners Dig Quality Tools

By MR. FIX

Nothing catches the attention of customers in a hardware or department store as does the display of garden seeds and garden tools. Maybe it's as much a matter of desire for warmer weather as it is a need for garden supplies that makes crowds gather.

It's understandable that you would need fresh supplies of seed and fertilizer every spring. Garden tools, if picked well, should last for many years and not be something that you have to buy new every year or two.

The first rule is to buy quality tools. Small hand trowels and cultivators, for example, that are pressed out of a single piece of bendable sheet metal are to be avoided.

Metal parts should be good-quality steel.

Handles should be good, straight-grain hardwood. Avoid painted handles, there's no way of telling about the quality of the wood underneath.

Don't just point and pay. Handle the tools in the store before you buy. Heft them. See if the weight and balance suit you. A tool comfortable for someone else to use may not be comfortable for you.

Avoid the gadgets and stick to basic tools.

Get a spading fork for turning over the soil and to lift perennials for transplanting. Get one with a metal shank that encompasses the wood handle rather than the kind that has a single piece of metal driven into the end of the handle.

***
Pick a spade the same way. A round spade is great for picking up the dirt you dig. A square spade is O.K. for turning the soil, can double as a lawn edger.

A steel rake is absolutely necessary for leveling the earth once it's spaded. A bow rake rather than a straight rake is preferred by many.

Hoes come in a variety of weights, sizes and shapes. Get one big enough to do the job but not so big that using it is a major chore. A broad blade hoe should be kept sharp, so get one of good-quality steel.

***
A long-handled cultivator has prongs instead of a blade but otherwise resembles a hoe. This tool is not absolutely necessary. See how you get along with a hoe first. Available is a combination hoe—straight blade on one side, twin pointy blades on the other.

If you get down on your knees and work among the flowers, get hand trowels and cultivators—the kind with good steel blades and comfortable wooden handles.

You'll need a pair of pruning shears for shrubs, rose bushes. If you have hedges you will need hedge shears. If you have a great many hedges, consider an electric hedge shears.

***
Don't go wild on sprayers. A two-quart hand sprayer is fine to start with.

With a good set of gardening tools, plus a hose, you'll be in business for the season. If you do much gardening and transplanting get yourself—a wheelbarrow. Pick one you can maneuver and save your back and arms.

Central's Prexy To Be Installed

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — William Boyd, acting president of Central Michigan University, will be installed officially as the school's seventh president in ceremonies next Monday. Boyd succeeds Judson Foust, who resigned last July.

The ceremonies will be informal at Boyd's request. The approximately $5,000 saved by cutting down on pomp will go to a fund to aid disadvantaged students.

Weed Killers OK, But . . .

Maintenance Is Best For Lawns

Although chemical weed killers are available, preventive maintenance can give lawn grass its best chance against weeds, according to a weed control specialist from Michigan State University.

"The most effective weed control measure for the home lawn is a healthy, vigorously growing turf that is regularly mowed to a height of 1 1/2 to 2 inches," says Dr. William F. Meggitt of MSU's Department of Crop Science.

When chemicals are necessary, Meggitt suggests combinations of 2,4-D amine with other herbicides such as silvex, MCPP or dicamba to control dandelion, plantains, clover, chickweeds, black medic, red sorrel, creeping charlie, round-leaved mallow and other "hard to kill" broadleaf species.

He advises caution in their use, however, as injury to foliage and roots of trees and shrubs can result from improper application.

The MSU specialist reminds users to read the label required on every container of weed killer to see which dosages are recommended and which weeds the chemical should control.

He says that preemergence herbicides for crabgrass are available which are not only the most effective controls but also have the lowest management requirements. Residues from these preemergence applications remain in the soil to kill crabgrass upon germination throughout the summer.

"Post-emergence control measures are also available," says Meggitt, "but these require multiple applications."

Milliken To Call Housing Meet

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken will call a meeting this month to begin the state's participation in a national program to ease a current housing shortage, the executive office announced today.

Milliken was in Washington to discuss the program with Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney.

The governor's office said Milliken planned to ask interested mayors, legislators and state and local officials to discuss the program, "Operation Breakthrough," and outline what Michigan can do to stimulate home building.

Housing needs in Michigan are expected to average about 90,000 homes for each of the next five years, Milliken's office said. Present construction methods produce about 4,000 homes a year.

The national program is designed to provide increased housing for all income levels through a partnership of labor, consumers, private enterprise and government at the local, state and federal level.

Paint Your Backyard A Bright Caribbean

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What does that exotic resort have that your backyard does not have? Compute! The answer may surprise homeowners who have become disenchanted with their own lot. It may provide the key to one big happy vacation at home or lots of jazzy weekends.

First, feed your imaginary computer a backyard image. Start with the fixed blessings—the glorious colorways of the summer sky, bright sunshine, warm air, water spot—swimming pool or fish pond.

Next, feed the resort image into the machine, watch it digest and come up with two words: color and people. That's what you probably lack. A bit more sociability on your part and buckets of colorful pigment may turn your backyard into an irresistible hangout.

Color used lavishly on furniture, screen fences, concrete floors, umbrellas and awnings, along with wild, wonderful patterns that look go-go will give you a new outlook. It should be well thought out or the effect might be garish.

If you don't trust yourself, consult color experts at stores or seek the good judgment of a friend. Two solid colors or one solid and a pattern work out best in a small place.

Here are suggestions:

Inexpensive peel-cane furniture, director's chairs, pine chairs can soak up the vivid colors—lime, orange, blue, pink or the deep red and burgundy of pastels—for a very modern look.

You can spray paint, but if you want penetrating colors, you may need several coats, and the project may be more expensive than brush painting. A good thing about the spray is its convenience, if you can master the art. One may have difficulty in keeping the hand steady enough to disperse paint smoothly, and there may be problems in setting the just-right distance.

It is time-consuming to paint with a brush, but there may be instant satisfaction because you can see the color you want at once.

If you have a stockade-type fence enclosing your backyard, paint your side of the enclosure. Bright white is a good background color for vividly painted outdoor furniture. If outdoor furniture is white, paint the fence the same bright color as chair cushions or umbrellas.

If the yard is dirt, you may put down an outdoor carpet. If there is concrete or flagstone, paint it in attractive colors. Vivid pink or blue chalky colors are very pretty choices, if you want to do it up Bermuda-style. Fill in chips and cracks, prime concrete with an alkali-resistant base coat before you begin. Your husband and the paint store man will try to discourage you, and one argument is that such colors won't last. So what? A Caribbean vacation doesn't last either, and it is far more expensive than a paint happening. When the paint fades, do it again.

Rusty, black or white metal furniture may be painted in some of the new vivid colors for fun effects. Prime for better results. Put several coats of exterior-type enamel on it.

Barrels or nail kegs are good containers for plants or trees. A row of them placed along a wall or fence can be very pretty. Yellow barrels are a good contrast to a white fence.

Several round tables that can be painted white and shaded with colorful umbrellas to match chair cushions will go a long way toward increasing that resort feeling. It is a delightful way to entertain outdoors in the day or in evening candlelight. Some families may prefer picnic tables, but benches can be a bit uncomfortable for party-dressed people who want to linger around a table, and the mood isn't the same.

Ideas can evolve to suit the purpose of individuals. One bachelor set up a bar-barrel at the corner of his yard, and one family uses a similar arrangement to dispense lemonade to children.

Color schemes that might strike your fancy are these: lime green fence, umbrellas, cushions, white furniture, blue or green floor, white fence, pastel cushions and umbrellas, shocking pink fence, black wrought iron, vivid pink cushions and umbrellas.

A fence will make the picture cozier, but if you have a patio on large grounds, you can place urns or plant pots of color around the perimeter of it to achieve the same effect.

Start Lawn On Good Soil

EAST LANSING — Preparing a proper seedbed is critical whether you are seeding or sodding a lawn.

The first rule: don't seed or sod on poor soil.

"If the soil is sandy, adding four to six inches of topsoil is advised unless irrigation is available," comments Paul Rieke, Michigan State University extension soils specialist.

"With clay soils, it is advisable to add topsoil, or a combination of organic matter and sand which must also be worked into the soil to a depth of four to six inches.

Fine-textured soils high in clay require provisions for drainage. And proper sloping will help solve problems of excess water removal by encouraging surface drainage, says Rieke.

Football fields, for example, are 18 inches higher in the center than at the sidelines in order to help remove surface water and reduce the chance of muddy playing conditions.

After final contouring of the seedbed, care should be taken to see that all debris has been removed. Then, when the soil's texture and structure are in good condition, it should be fertilized.

Rieke advises that the amount of fertilizer applied should be based on soil tests which are available at county Cooperative Extension Service offices throughout the state.

If no soil test is taken, a good rule of thumb is to apply 5-20-20 fertilizer at a rate of 10 to 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet for seeded turf, or 20 to 40 pounds per 1,000 square feet on sodded turf.

"If the soil is very acid (ph below 5.8)," says Rieke, "lime should be applied according to soil test recommendations. Fertilizer and lime should then be mixed into the upper three inches of soil.

The first successful cotton textile mill in the U. S. was built in 1790 by Samuel Slater, an Englishman.

Shrubs For All Seasons

By Sheila and Allan Swenson
NEA Garden Specialists

For specimen planting, color and fragrance, we cast our vote for flowering shrubs. Most are hardy, easily tended and last forever.

Grape myrtle, long a Southern favorite, now is available in harder form for gardens as far north as Philadelphia.

Cardinal Shrub with brilliant scarlet trumpet flowers, Butterfly Bush, Firethorn, Mock Orange, Burning Bush and many others do well in most areas.

Need Little Pruning
Butterfly Bush produces colorful panicles up to 18 inches long. It lasts from July to September and attracts hundreds of butterflies all that time. It matures to five feet in summer, dies back each fall and comes up again each spring.

Cardinal Shrub flowers in June and July, grows five to six feet tall. It needs little pruning and thrives almost everywhere, in sun and shade. To increase blooming, remove sprays of flowers in spring.

Burning Bush and Firethorn or Pyracantha are excellent for season-long displays. Burning Bush has yellow flowers in the spring followed by orange fruits. In autumn, the leaves turn blazing copper red. It can be used as a hedge, growing 10 feet tall, or pruned periodically for lower, fuller display.

Firethorn retains its foliage all winter in mild locations. In spring it is covered with hawthornlike flowers, followed by fiery red berries that remain into winter.

For Decorations
You can use Firethorn branches for holiday decorations. Trained on walls, Firethorn may reach 15 feet, an interesting background for other lower-growing shrubs and plantings.

Mock Orange provides marvelous fragrance for the whole yard. Graceful branches with white flowers appear in spring. The shrubs mature seven to eight feet tall, ideal to screen areas from view. Thin out old wood after flowering.

Shrubs will give you years of beauty if you give them some attention. Pruning is one part. But a few cups of fertilizer around them each spring will give them more strength to reward you better with blooms and fragrance. Look around this year and pick your shrubs for all seasons.

Besides its fur, the beaver is valuable for castoreum, a substance with a very strong odor used in medicine and perfumery.

New Tricks For Lawns

By Sheila and Allan Swenson
NEA Garden Specialists

Every year garden companies come up with new developments that make lawns easier to build and maintain. You can adopt new ideas to help put greener grass on your side of the fence this year.

Lawns are like a farm crop. They need fertilizer to produce lush green growth. Nitrogen is the basic ingredient, but phosphorus and potash are important, too.

Look for high analysis fertilizers, 20-10-10, 16-8-8. Ask about slow-release fertilizer. It releases nutrients slowly over a longer period of sustained growth.

Consider Sodding
Prilled fertilizer is excellent. You can use a cyclone-type spreader or whirlybird to eliminate the streaks caused by uneven distribution of old type spreaders. And, even more modern, you can fertilize with liquid nutrients through your watering system to save time and labor.

Consider sodding for a quick lawn. You can condense six months' work into several hours and have instant lawn. Certified sod is pest-free, green and vigorous. Simply prepare the base, order your sod and lay it like a carpet. This practice is ideal for slopes or difficult areas where washing or shade make conventional seeding slow and troublesome.

Mow Higher
Mow higher in summer. It helps prevent drought damage. Also fast-growing grass develops low sugar content in leaves, which makes grass more vulnerable to disease.

Watch for weed infestations. Mix Silvex, 2,4-D or 3,4,5-TP spray in a two-gallon sprayer. As you mow, spot spray weeds before they go to seed. A few treatments as you will knock out weeds right down to their roots.

Annual bluegrass and crabgrass often become problems. Newer materials—Azak, or even better, Dacthal Plus Three—really knock out crabgrass before it even germinates. Ortho Crabgrass Control does a job on annual crabgrass, Poa annua.

Save time by using combination products that weed, feed and control underground lawn insects. Most modern garden centers now have these weed and feed products available.

Science and common sense can give you the lush green lawn you want this year.

Hoover Doesn't Plan To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, 74, dousing rumors he will step down Saturday on his 45th anniversary as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said today he has no plans to retire.

"I have many plans and aspirations for the future," said Hoover. "None of them includes retirement."

"As long as God grants me the health and the stamina to continue, I have no ambition other than to remain in my post as director of the FBI."

Hoover, who told of his plans in written responses to questions submitted by The Associated Press, is more than four years past the mandatory retirement age for federal employees, a requirement waived in his case by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and President Nixon.

Automated System To Handle Stock

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange says it hopes to put its new automated system for handling trades of large blocks of stock into operation in 20 of the biggest cities by mid-1970.

The computerized network—called Block Automation System—is designed to match buy and sell interests of institutions such as mutual funds, pension funds, banks and insurance companies.

Initial plans are to program the system for blocks of 5,000 shares or more or, in the case of higher priced stocks, trades with a minimum value of perhaps $200,000.

Pilot To Help Cuba Hijacker

MIAMI (AP) — Pilot Harry Davis says he'll go wherever necessary to "help make a good citizen" out of a youth who held a knife to his back and ordered his jetliner to Cuba seven months ago.

"I think he'll be alright now and I think he can be channeled toward becoming a good citizen," said the 47-year-old National Airlines captain.

The youth, Michael A. Peparo, 21, of Cold Spring, N.Y., and his 18-year-old girl friend, Tasmine Fitzgerald of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., were found guilty of interfering with the crew of an airliner in flight and were sentenced Wednesday to indeterminate confinement in federal prison. Court officials said they could serve from three months to six years in prison.

Charges of air piracy against the two were dropped.

"I will go to this boy wherever he is confined and continue to try to help him," Davis told U.S. Dist. Court Judge C. Clyde Atkins.

State Drivers Have Heavy Foot

LANSING (AP) — Michigan motorists are speedier by one-half mile per hour than the average driver in the United States, according to a survey by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

The survey showed a combined average of 59 miles per hour for all vehicles including passenger cars, trucks and buses.

The Michigan average for all vehicles was 59.5 miles per hour.

The study also showed: —Some 13 per cent of all vehicles and 16 per cent of passenger cars exceed the legal 70 mile-an-hour freeway speed limit. The national average was 12 and 14 per cent respectively.

—The number of vehicles exceeding 60 miles an hour has nearly tripled in the last 10 years, mainly because of improved highways.

'Manifesto' Is Church Threat

DETROIT (AP) — The president of a Detroit printing company said Thursday that 500,000 copies of a "Black Manifesto" prepared by Negro militant James Forman would be printed Saturday.

The manifesto, issued several weeks ago in Detroit, details plans for militants to seize white Christian churches and Jewish synagogues until "reparations" of $500 million are paid to American Negroes.

No places of worship have been seized, but Forman interrupted a morning service at New York's famed Riverside Church last Sunday to demand free office space for his National Black Economic Development Council.

Forman also demanded unlimited use of the church's telephones, radio station and classrooms, as well as payment amounting to 60 per cent of the church's income from stock and real estate.

Forman gave the church until this Sunday to meet the demands.

Forman claimed Thursday that employees at the Unique Press, which is handling the job, struck the firm as a protest against filling the order.

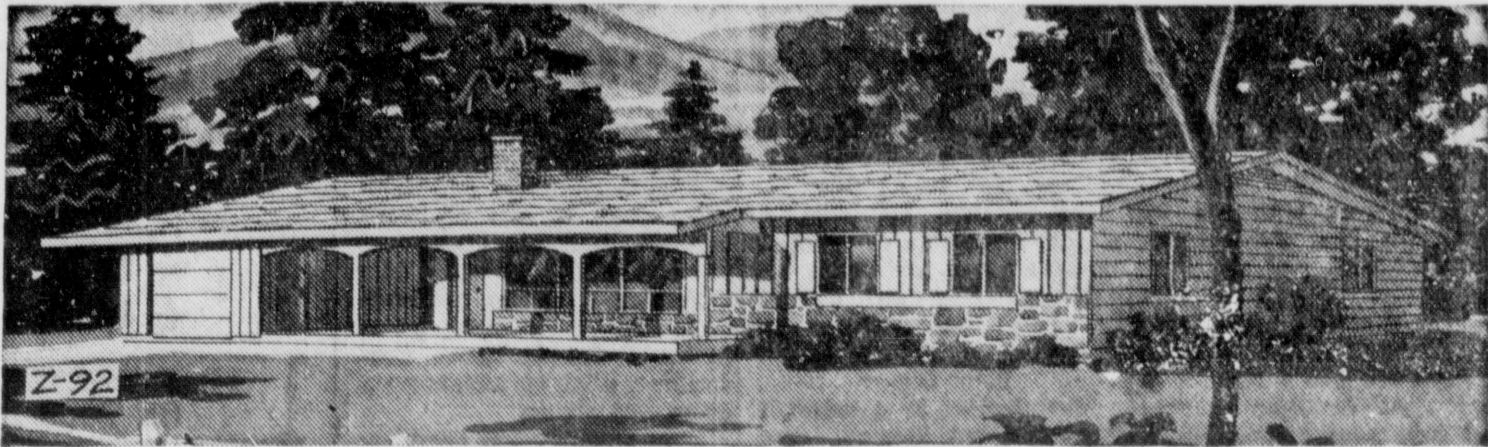

He called the situation "another indication of the blatant racism in this society."

Unique President Cy Aaron said there had been no strike at his firm and the copies would be run off as scheduled on Saturday.

BOX-LIKE EFFECT often evident in a small house has been avoided by extending front porch roofline across breezeway and garage at the left. Stone under bedroom and living room windows blends effectively with vertical siding at front and horizontal siding at ends.

Breezeway Extends House

By ANDY LANG

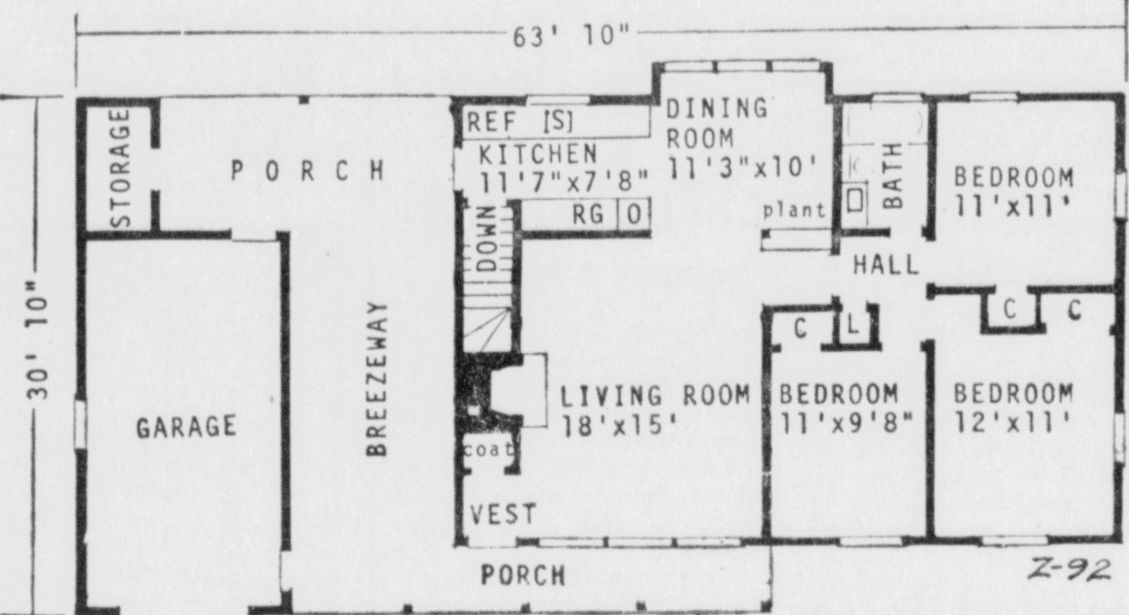

A family with a modest income finds it difficult to match its budget with a three-bedroom house.

A small house — under 1200 square feet of habitable area—usually has one or two bedrooms. And it often has a boxy look that seems to call attention to its lack of size.

In this particular house, a ranch with a living area of only 1117 square feet, architect Herbert Struppmann has managed to include three bedrooms within a compact floor plan yet produce an exterior with a lengthy appearance. He has accomplished this by placing a breezeway between the basic house and garage, then extending the roof line of a long, covered front porch across the front of the garage. The house not only looks bigger, it is more interesting.

There is more than eye-appeal to the exterior styling. The front porch, with its overhanging roofline, offers weather protection at the entranceway and shields the living room from the sun and wind without obstructing the view. The breezeway offers an additional sheltered outdoor area and leads to a covered porch at the rear, giving a modest house extra assets at modest cost. Note from the floor plans how easy it is to get from the garage to the front door, from the kitchen to the outdoor storage closet or to the garage, or from the garage or backyard to the basement stairs.

The entrance to the living

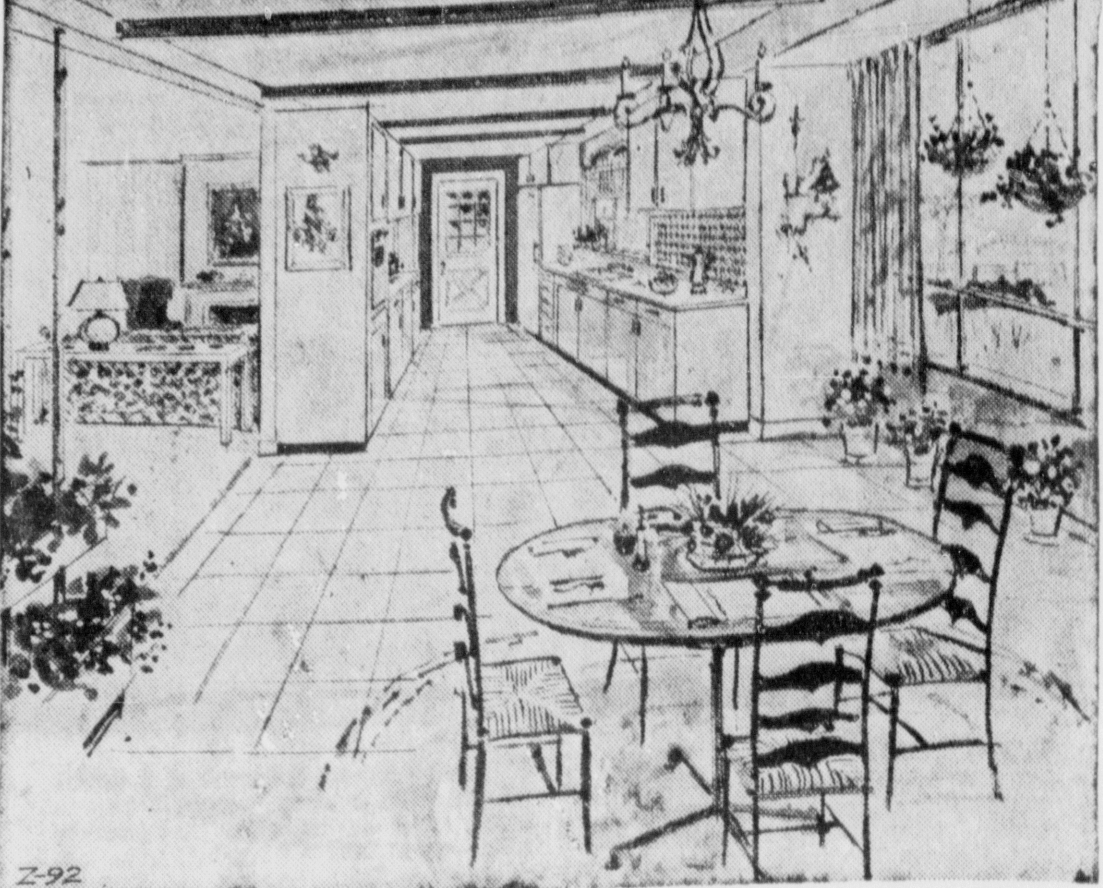

FLOOR PLANS: Compact designing enabled architect to get six rooms and bath into a relatively small area. Although total livable area is only 1117 square feet, front and rear porches, connected by a long breezeway, afford extra space for comfort.

room is through a vestibule, which has a coat closet. Big triple windows across the front are in the most popular styling. They add to the attractiveness of the area, as does the stone fireplace. The living room and the dining room can be completely separate or brought together, depending on the activities going on. A planter is suggested to delineate the dining room from the approach to the bedroom hall. Extra space is added to the dining room by a rear bay extension, all windows and a room wide.

Those who prefer a family room to a dining room can set off the dining room from the living room by dividers or screens, with the area decorated to blend with the adjacent kitchen. The kitchen, although small can serve family or formal meals in the dining-family room or supply the needs of outdoor cookout or picnic meals in good weather in the breezeway-porch section.

The bedrooms are not large, but they are big enough to sleep a family of four. The bathroom has a vanity and is well located. There are five closets, outdoor and garage storage, and more in the cellar as well.

The exterior combines stone and vertical and horizontal siding. It achieves a pleasant traditional look with a modern-day effect.

PLACEMENT of dining room (foreground) in line with kitchen lends depth to entire area. Glimpse of living room can be seen at left. Door at end of kitchen leads to covered porch.

Z-92 STATISTICS

Design Z-92 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms, bath and vestibule with a habitable area of 1117 square feet. There are two porches, one at the front and one at the rear, a breezeway, a storage closet and a one-car garage. Over-all dimensions, which include everything mentioned, are 63' 10" by 30' 10". Plans include a basement.

42 Youngsters Dead; Inhaling Spray Can Mist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-two youngsters looking for kicks in the common spray can have died after inhaling the mists from such products as mouthwashes and cleaning fluids, according to the Food and Drug Administration.

Victims were mostly teenagers, but one was only 11 years old, an FDA spokesman said.

"These kids apparently have been spraying products into plastic bags and then sniffing them," reported Joshua Zatman, the FDA's assistant commissioner for education and information.

"Then if they don't withdraw

Car Production Up With Strike

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. auto production rose this week despite a continuing strike at eight General Motors assembly plants, the industry journal Automotive News reported Thursday.

Passenger car production for the week was 165,031 autos, up from last week's 160,566 but well below the 206,911 turned out in the same week last year.

General Motors spokesmen reported that the strike had affected 68,500 workers by the end of the second shift Thursday. This includes 36,100 employees on strike at seven assembly division plants and one Fisher Body plant. Some 32,400 workers have been laid off or put on short work weeks. The strike, which stems from consolidation plans and work conditions, is now 11 days old.

The strike has cut GM production by 28,000 cars a week, but Saturday work at many plants has kept the industry total up.

Total car production for the year now stands at 3.39 million, down from 3.45 million at the same point in 1968.

Truck production for the week was 33,150 units, compared with 34,119 last week. Production was down from the 43,812 recorded a year ago, reflecting the GM strike.

Canadian plants produced 23,241 cars this week, above last week's 22,641 but below last year's 24,212 in the corresponding week. Canadian truck completions totaled 7,341 this week, up from last week's 7,901 and last year's 6,626.

Highway Fund Sets New High

LANSING (AP) — Motor vehicle highway fund collections during the first quarter of the year set a new high of $131.46 million, the State Highway Department reported today.

The total collected during January, February and March compared with $110.76 million for the same period of 1968 and $99.81 million in 1967.

Most of the increase is attributed to the one cent a gallon jump in the state gasoline tax and higher license plate fees.

The Highway Department will retain $60.47 million of the total, counties will receive $44.69 million and $26.29 million will go to the cities and villages.

The money is split on a formula of 46 per cent for the Highway Department, 34 per cent for the counties and 20 per cent for the cities and villages.

The division is made after deduction of collection costs, allocation of a 1.5 per cent share for the State Waterways Commission and a $3.5-million annual grant for the Straits of Mackinac Bridge.

their heads fast enough, they die.

"It causes some dizziness and some elation with one breath, but if they take two or three breaths it freezes their esophagus, congests their lungs, causes asphyxia. It kills."

Hallucinogenic

Zatman said the effect of inhaling the sprays is "what doctors call mildly hallucinogenic. It is the same effect you get when you drink a couple of ounces of bourbon or scotch in a hurry."

The lethal element in most of the sprays, he said, is Freon 12—an inert gas used to propel the products from cans.

"Freon 12 is the same as the gas used in air conditioners, only here it is compressed," he said. "It's the same as what you use to spray on a glass to chill it when you have your afternoon martini."

The Federal Trade Commission, Zatman said, has issued an order effective May 21 requiring manufacturers of the aerosols to label the cans with a warning.

Warning Labels

The FTC warning states: "It is an unfair or deceptive act or practice to fail to provide a clear and conspicuous warning on the labels of such products, that the contents thereof should not be inhaled in concentrated form, and that injury or death may result from such inhalation."

Zatman said the FDA has discussed the problem with the Pharmaceutical Manufacturing Association and with the Toilet Goods Association which is launching a $75,000 educational campaign against deliberate misuse of the sprays.

Abortion Bill Lacks Backing

LANSING (AP) — The emotion-packed issue of abortion law reform — which opponents call "murder" and supporters claim will provide a civil right for women — today faced possible debate in the State Senate.

The Senate Committee on Health, Social Services and Retirement Thursday reported out, but failed to recommend passage of, two measures aimed at liberalizing the Michigan law which permits abortion only when the life of the mother is in danger.

The lack of recommendation means the bills will be tabled until proponents muster the 20 votes necessary to order initial consideration.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, sponsor of one bill, said "I think we can get the votes."

Gov. William Milliken has indicated he could support the Bursley bill, the senator said. Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, Senate majority leader, Thursday repeated a promise to back the Bursley proposal.

That bill would allow termination of pregnancy if:

—there were "significant risk" that continuation of the pregnancy would seriously impair the physical or mental health of the mother.

—The pregnancy resulted from rape or incest.

There were "significant risk" that the child would be born with serious physical or mental defect.

Abortions would be permitted if three doctors agreed. One of the doctors would have to be a psychiatrist if the abortion were sought on mental health grounds.

No abortion would be permitted after the 19th week of pregnancy, unless there were serious danger to the mother's life.

The second bill would remove criminal penalties for performing an abortion if the operation were conducted by a licensed and accredited physician in a licensed and accredited hospital.

Arson Suspected In Major Fire At Menominee

MENOMINEE — Menominee Chief of Police Irwin J. Mouritzen today asked for the assistance of Sgt. Wesley Freeman, fire marshal investigator for the Michigan State Police, to investigate the cause of a fire which destroyed a large storage building in Menominee early this morning.

Officers indicated that arson has not been ruled out in the fire, which gutted the former United Frigurator Engineers building in central Menominee.

The building was being used for storage by the Menominee Division of Vernco Corp., a firm which manufactures small motors and appliances for retail sales.

Firemen responded with a pumper and aerial truck about 2:30 a.m.

Fire Chief William Sporrer said at that time the fire was located in the north end of the building, but at the same time he noticed four or five other individual outbreaks of flames in other parts of the building. A number of bales of cardboard in the midsection of the building apparently had been smoldering for some time Sporrer said.

The building was 312 feet long and 75 feet wide with the first 108 feet of the building of two-story construction. The remaining 204 feet was of cinder block construction of single story.

Located in the 1100 block of 26th Ave. in Menominee, the building was owned by Mrs. Raymond W. Neuman of Menominee. Her family ceased operating United Frigurator in Oct., 1963, when her husband died. Vernco was renting the building for storage purposes.

Saturday Mass Schedule Set

The Rev. Charles Carmody of St. Patrick's Church of Escanaba has announced the following Mass changes and Saturday Mass schedules for area Catholic churches:

A Saturday evening Mass will be held at 7:30 p.m. at St. Patrick's Church beginning this Saturday, May 10. Confessions will be heard from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Saturdays. The Sunday Mass schedule will remain the same for the time being.

At St. Joseph's Church, Escanaba a Saturday evening Mass will be held at 6 and St. Anthony's in Wells will have Mass at 6:30 p.m. on Saturdays.

St. Anne's Parish, Escanaba will hold Mass at 8 p.m. Sunday beginning May 18 and continuing through Labor Day. The morning Masses will remain the same. At St. Thomas the Apostle Church plans are still being formulated and an announcement is forthcoming on a Saturday Mass.

A Saturday Mass is held at 7:30 p.m. at All Saints Church in Gladstone.

Raeder Heads Area Veterans

Clarence Raeder of Escanaba was elected commander of the Delta County Veterans Council at a meeting Thursday night at the American Legion post home.

The Veterans Council is composed of representatives from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Amvets, Disabled American Veterans, World War I Barracks and the American Legion.

Raeder, who has been active in veterans affairs, succeeds Raymond Robitaille of Escanaba as commander.

Other officers elected were George Embs, Escanaba, adjutant finance officer; Alfred Provencher, chaplain.

Other officers elected were William Garbett, Rte. 1, Gladstone, vice commander; George Embs, Escanaba, adjutant finance officer; and Alfred Provencher, Escanaba, chaplain.

The council is planning its annual Memorial Day program for deceased veterans. Robitaille asked for another good turnout of veterans this year on Memorial Day.

Girl Scout Office Is Officially Open

Members of the board of directors and nominating committee from the Escanaba area in the Peninsula Waters Girl Scout Council visited their new council office in Escanaba Thursday. Mrs. Richard Potter, president from Ishpeming and Mrs. Robert Finley, office services manager from Escanaba, were on hand to greet Mrs. George S. Douglas, second vice president; Mrs. Luther Barrett, secretary; Robert Mosenfelder, treasurer; and Mrs. Norman Lindquist, member of the council's nominating committee.

All Registrations Mrs. Potter stated that the Girl Scout office will process all troop registrations for the Upper Peninsula and Iron County, with membership cards issued from the office by mail.

Also, insignia Girl Scouts are entitled to wear such as pins, badges, membership stars, aide bars, etc. will be available to the 200 troops served in the council's jurisdiction.

Mrs. Douglas stated she felt this service would be valuable to leaders in that past delays for many troops could be cut. Service will be by mail, personal delivery by field staff during regular visits, or direct service over the counter.

Riot Police Raid Howard Dorm

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 200 riot police made a tear gas attack on a Howard University dormitory housing about 1,000 students early today after federal marshals clearing six buildings occupied by militants came under a heavy barrage of rocks and other debris.

About 100 marshals had entered the campus a few hours earlier acting under a court order to clear the buildings seized earlier in the week.

At first the marshals, wearing helmets and carrying night sticks met little resistance, but as they moved from building to building, they were hit by rocks, cans and broken bricks thrown by persons hiding on building tops.

Washington Deputy Police Chief Jerry Wilson said about 60 arrests had been made, all but one by the marshals. He said the city police's Civil Disturbance Unit had been stationed near the campus and moved onto the school grounds at the request of the federal officers.

"The marshals were getting stoned and they needed help. They asked us for it," he said.

The police marched in ranks of two up to the front of Cook Hall, a sophomore dormitory just outside the main campus where several students chased from the occupied buildings had hidden. When they reached the front of the four-story building they were greeted by a heavy rain of rocks and other debris.

After about 10 minutes, police officers ordered tear gas rockets fired into the building. Six rockets were fired and the rock throwing soon stopped.

Man, 64, Hurt As Car Rolls

A 64-year-old Escanaba man was hospitalized Thursday after the car he was driving left U. S. 2 and 41 in Masonville Township and rolled over.

St. Francis Hospital officials reported today that John Hervey, 1523 Sheridan Rd., was listed in fair condition. A report on the extent of his injuries was not immediately available.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said that Hervey's car dropped off the right side of the pavement, then crossed back across the road and rolled over. Hervey was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Hervey is a route driver for the Escanaba Daily Press and was returning to Escanaba from making newspaper deliveries to Manistique and Schoolcraft County.

German Mark To Hold Value

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany will not increase the value of its mark, a government spokesman said today. But the rush to trade dollars and other currencies for marks remained hectic across Europe.

"There will be no revaluation," a spokesman Conrad Ahlers told a news conference. "There is nothing more to say." But other government sources said the final decision is still to be made in meetings with Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and top officials.

In opening trading in Frankfurt the dollar slipped back from 25 cents to 25 1-3 cents, or 3.95 marks for a dollar.

Kiesinger presided at a conference between other leaders of his Christian Democratic party and their partners in the government coalition, the Social Democrats of Foreign Minister Willy Brandt.

Stocks Gain; Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued higher in fairly active trading early with brokers reporting some investor caution and profit-taking pressure.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .077 at 964.45.

Gains led losses by better than 150 issues.

Brokers said that investors still were encouraged by hopes of progress in the Vietnam peace talks, but that they also were concerned to some extent by the domestic economic situation as well as by the international monetary situation.

"Profit taking also continues to cut into the market," an analyst said, "and you've got some of the usual preweekend caution."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 341.3, with industrials up .7, rails up .1, and utilities up .6.

Conglomerate issues were mixed as were motors and electronics. Steels, rubber issues, utilities, and aircrafts all had a higher tone.

Campbell's Show Has 'White-Ins'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Glen Campbell's CBS variety hour, one of the few evening programs that has not gone into reruns, reversed a familiar theatrical device Wednesday night.

Instead of a series of black-outs—short sketches or gags that end with a suddenly black screen—it presented a series of "white-ins." They consisted of bits of dialogue spoken when the screen was black, with the gag coming when the lights flashed on. One sketch had an employer firing a man, explaining that he acted the part of the "office clown." On came the lights and the fellow actually was a clown, complete with makeup and fright wig.

It was not earth shaking and some of the "white-ins" didn't come off. But, after all, little in TV's entertainment sector this season has been very original or has lingered long in most viewers' minds.

A single picture that might summarize the past season is a closeup of someone's fingers plucking a guitar. There must have been thousands of such shots since singer with guitars were the most popular commodities of the three networks.

As for the one-shot specials—shows that put some class in the schedules—there has been a scattering of memorable ones. This viewer's choice as the best would be NBC's "Male of the Species" with Paul Scofield, which did not receive any Emmy nomination although Scofield did. Another favorite was ABC's "Thanksgiving Visitor" and Geraldine Page's moving performance.

NBC's original play, "Teacher, Teacher" about a mentally retarded boy also sticks in the mind. But those highly exploited "CBS Playhouse" and NBC "On Stage" originals were disappointing for the most part.

"Laugh-In" in its irreverent, uninhabited way, remains a distinct and distinctive TV phenomenon and certainly has been the brightest spot in the weekly schedules. The Smothers Brothers war with their network was more interesting than most of their programs or their editorializing.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Striking Teachers Should Lose Tenure: O'Neil

LANSING (AP) — Teachers who strike should lose their tenure and have teaching certificates revoked, a member of the State Board of Education has told Gov. William Milliken.

James F. O'Neil wrote the governor and legislative leaders, saying he believed striking teachers should be penalized "since they have ignored their moral responsibility to adhere to the law."

State law prohibits strikes by public employees.

"Teachers striking in violation of the law provide the worst possible example that can be set for today's youth," O'Neil said.

"Such illegal action on the part of teachers makes it impossible for them to teach respect for the law with any degree of conviction."

O'Neil said also that the State School Aid Act, currently under consideration in the House, should include a prohibition against deficit financing by school districts.

"There will be no end to the financial crisis until and unless this is done," O'Neil said.

Such a provision is included in the measure facing House debate next week.

O'Neil called also for a re-evaluation of the purposes and objectives of education.

Oscar Winner Found Ineligible

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gregory Peck, president of the Motion Picture Academy, says the film "Young Americans" which won the Oscar for best documentary of 1968 last month was ineligible because it was released in 1967.

The ballots were rechecked and "Journey into Self" was found to have run second in the voting for best documentary. It was declared the winner and producer Bill McGaw was handed an Oscar in a special ceremony Thursday.

Dr. R. Hammill To Speak Here On Saturday

Doctor Richard Hammill, president of the Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich. will be guest speaker in the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church, Saturday, May 10, at 9:30 a. m. The sermon topic is, "The Measure of Man."

Born in California, he earned his B. Th. degree at Walla Walla, Wash., his M. A. degree at Andrews University, and his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago.

He started his career in 1936 as a minister in Washington state and went to the far East in 1940 as a missionary. He was interned with his wife and son in a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines during World War II.

After the war, he was appointed a professor of religion at Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tenn. and later served as the academic dean of that institution until being appointed as associate secretary of the education department of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists in 1955. The Andrews University Board of Trustees elected him president in 1963.

Dr. Hammill is the author of the "Judges," section of the Seventh-day Adventist Bible Commentary and the book, "In Full Assurance," and the co-author of, "Problems in Bible Translation and Doctrinal Discussion."

He is married to the former Dena Timinenko, an assistant cataloger in the Andrews University Library. They have two children.

Scholarship Honors Dean Helen Snyder

A new women's scholarship, the Dean Helen Snyder Scholarship, was announced last week at the University of Nebraska by representatives of various women's organizations on campus.

The announcement was made at a luncheon honoring Miss Snyder who is associate dean of student affairs and administrative assistant to Vice Chancellor G. Robert Ross, executive dean of student affairs.

Dean Snyder is the daughter of the late Charles Emery and Katherine Snyder of Escanaba. He worked as an insurance man in this area. Miss Snyder has visited here several times in recent years.

Nesha Neumeister, president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, said the scholarship is being established to cite Miss Snyder who is national president of Mortar Board. The national meeting of Mortar Board will be held at the University of Nebraska in 1971.

Special Offering Saturday At Adventist Church

Seventh-day Adventist churches gave more than $330,000 to relief for victims of the war in East Nigeria, according to a report just received from church world headquarters.

Saturday Escanaba Adventists will focus their giving on general disaster and famine relief. Pastor L. A. Pomeroy explains that the church's relief program is supported further by volunteer hours on the part of members here, who process and sort clothing and other materials received by the Health and Welfare Department.

The local organization sends a certain portion of these materials to the state or national relief depots for distribution in other world areas.

Last year disaster victims in 42 countries received assistance from Seventh-day Adventist Welfare Service, Inc. (SAWS). Distribution of food, clothing, medical supplies and other needed items totaled nearly three million dollars in value.

A portion of this amount was given to hurricane victims in the southwest, SAWS officials said.

The church maintains a large depository on each coast, from which relief materials are shipped or flown out as emergencies arise. Many regional headquarters also maintain depots for stockpiling of relief supplies. All materials are carefully processed and ready for distribution at a moment's notice.

Many of the church's conference headquarters have mobile units designed specifically to meet disaster situations. These range from huge trailer vans as used in Michigan to small panel trucks. Some have built-in generators for occasions when there is a power failure. Many have self-contained canteens.

Pomeroy points out that world figures reveal a steady climb in disasters such as earthquakes, floods, and droughts, in addition to man-made tragedies such as wars and riots.

In spite of a generous offering to Disaster and Famine Relief two years ago, the funds were exhausted six months ago. This particular offering is taken only every other year, Pomeroy explains.

Schaffer

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meyers have returned from a visit with their daughter in Milwaukee, Sycamore and Niles.

Alfred LaVigne is a patient in St. Vincent's Hospital, Green Bay.

Fred Perras is a medical patient in St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. Louis Tousignant returned home Sunday from a weekend in Milwaukee. She accompanied Mrs. Sophie Glovacki of Perronville and Mrs. Ivan Sundquist of Bark River.

THE SAILOR LOOK

Rev. J. Calhoun To Speak At Grace Church

Rev. James R. Calhoun

Rev. James R. Calhoun, evangelist with the extension staff of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will be the guest speaker at the Grace Baptist Church, 603 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, from Monday, May 12, through Sunday, May 18.

Rev. Calhoun's theme for the meetings will be, "What God Has To Say." The meetings will be held on weekdays at 7:30 p. m. and Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

A graduate of the pastor's course at Moody Bible Institute, Mr. Calhoun has devoted himself to a pastoral and evangelistic ministry. In his more than 30 years of experience, he has served two Michigan parishes and conducted evangelistic campaigns from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

"Wherever I go," say Mr. Calhoun, "I find a growing spiritual crisis of moral laxity and personal indifference. Religion is popular today, but there is little depth to it."

Mr. Calhoun, who has been with the institute for more than 20 years, was born in Pennsylvania and received his early education there. He now lives in Jackson, Mich.

C. VERN JOHNSON, left, Schoolcraft Democratic chairman, talked to State Party Chairman James McNeely during a Democratic breakfast with party workers Thursday. McNeely discussed ways of invigorating party activity in the Upper Peninsula with an eye on the 1970 elections. McNeely's Manistique visit was the first stop on a six-day swing through the U. P. to meet with party members. McNeely will meet with the Delta County Democratic party organization at a dinner meeting today at 8 p. m. at the Sherman Hotel. (Daily Press Photo)

Lawrence Jacobs Taken By Death

Lawrence J. Jacobs, 86, of 720 Lakeshore Drive, died early this morning at St. Francis Hospital.

Jacobs was born Dec. 7, 1882, in Marquette and spent most of his early life there. He came to Escanaba and was one of the early founders of the Delft Theater Corp.

He was on the board of directors of the State Bank of Escanaba, a member of the Board of Supervisors for many years, on the Escanaba Public School Board at the time the Junior High School was built, was made a lifetime honorary member of the Chamber of Commerce in 1960 and was chairman of the Delta County Red Cross during World War II and received the U.S. Treasury Medal for patriotic service during World War II.

Jacobs was a member of the Marquette Chapter Blue Lodge, F & A M; Marquette Consistory; Royal Arch Masons Commandry and Consistory; the Ahmed Temple, Marquette Shrine; Delta County Shrine of Escanaba; the Rotary and Elks clubs; the Delta County Historical Society and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

He is survived by two sons, William, of Los Angeles and John of Whitefish Bay, Wis.; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Yapp of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Vernon (Shirley) Johnson of Escanaba; one sister, Miss Ella Jacobs of Marquette; 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The body was removed to the Boyce Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Tornadoes Kill Two In Ohio

KETTERING, Ohio (AP) — Tornadoes hopscotching across Ohio left two dead, perhaps 50 injured, about 400 homeless and millions of dollars in damage.

Gov. James A. Rhodes flew during the night to the two major scenes of destruction—Kettering and the Cadiz area—offering assistance to victims.

Heaviest damage Thursday occurred at this Dayton suburban city in western Ohio. Rhodes said it might qualify as a disaster area.

Also hard hit was the Tappan Lake region near Cadiz, 175 miles east of here.

Mrs. Harry Fogle, 42, was killed when the storm leveled her house near the lake. It was one of a dozen houses destroyed in the area.

Jefferson D. Miller, 20, of Alexandria, was killed when a tree, split by lightning or wind, fell on his car near Columbus.

The tornado struck Kettering during the late afternoon rush hour. It cut a path 150 yards wide and three miles long through a residential area and into adjacent Greene County.

Thirty houses were demolished and an estimated 185 others damaged, as were an apartment building complex and a nursing home.

Saigon Rejects Coalition Plan

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government tonight rejected the new Viet Cong call for a provisional coalition government but said it is willing to discuss several other points in the 10-part peace program the Communists put before the Paris talks Thursday.

A Foreign Ministry communiqué said discussions could be held on such questions as exchange of prisoners of war, the re-establishment of the demilitarized zone and respect of the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos.

This was expected to be unacceptable to the Viet Cong, which had termed its 10-point proposal an "integrated whole."

Training On Enemy's Guns Slow, No Ammo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's plan to train recruits in the use of the main infantry rifle carried by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese has been stalled because of a lack of adequate ammunition.

As one Army training officer said, "procurement is a little slow—we have to capture our supplies from the enemy."

The Army announced last Oct. 8 that Gen. William C. Westmoreland, its chief of staff, had instructed training centers to include familiarization with the Russian-designed AK47 assault rifle for recruits.

"In addition to the added touch of realism, this will give the soldier experience in safe handling of enemy weapons which he may find or capture on the battlefield," the October announcement said.

A recent tour of Army bases, however, disclosed the program still isn't off the drawing board. The Army gave this reason why: "The lack of safe certified ammunition has contributed materially to the delay in carrying out the program."

Captured ammunition must be tested and certified by U.S. Army experts as safe for firing by American soldiers, which officers said is a time consuming process.

The Army now reports it has about 40,000 rounds of AK47 ammunition on hand, but needs about 94,000 rounds every three months for the initial phase of training. It is not considered economical to manufacture the comparatively small amount of ammunition needed, the Army said.

Seven months after the program's original launch date, the Army says now it anticipates delivery of an additional 100,000 rounds of AK47 ammo by the end of May. If schedules are met and the bullets pass safety inspection, the Army added, the program will be started by summer.

Also contributing to the delay in carrying out the Westmoreland program is trouble with faulty AK47s. According to the Army, one-third of the assault weapons inspected failed to meet U.S. safety standards.

Scott Carpenter Will Retire

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, who has been both astronaut and aquanaut, says he is retiring from the service July 1 to enter private business.

Carpenter, 44, is one of the original seven U.S. astronauts and became the second American in orbit when he piloted Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. In August 1967, he left the space program to take part in the Navy undersea living experiment called Sealab.

Announcing his retirement Thursday, Carpenter declined to say what business he would enter or where, but said he would be in oceanographic work.

that we lost the initiative and that he can hold a firmer, stronger position at the negotiation table.

Antiwar Movement
"The success of the 1969 spring offensive upset Nixon's plan because U.S. forces were heavily hit, and their weakening puppet (South Vietnamese) army could no longer provide support for the implementation of neocolonialism."

"The antiwar movement in the U.S. flared up again, strongly demanding withdrawal of U.S. troops. In short, the 1969 spring offensive forced Nixon to adopt a clearer policy for Vietnam and to end the war in our direction."

The document claimed 45,000 allied troops were killed in the spring offensive, half of them Americans. Official allied figures for the first five weeks of the offensive—which U.S. experts now feel was the effective period—show 1,718 American, 1,799 South Vietnamese, and 24,361 enemy troops killed in action.

Meanwhile, informed sources said the U.S. Command has received no orders from Washington to scale down offensive operations.

Price-Fixing Fine Deductable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., proposed today Congress overrule an Internal Revenue Service policy allowing firms convicted of price-fixing to write off penalty fines as normal business expenses.

Hart said companies fined for violating price-fixing laws actually save about half the amount through legal tax deductions.

"A small man may not deduct a traffic ticket as a 'necessary business expense,'" Hart said. "I do not wonder that he can't see why a company should be allowed to deduct penalties for criminal antitrust violations. I don't understand either."

Hart's bill to overturn the IRS rule comes one week after a Federal Court jury in Pittsburgh convicted three plumbing fixture manufacturers on price-fixing charges. Twelve other firms had pleaded no contest.

Hart said if the IRS rule change is not made taxpayers will in effect be forced to pay half the millions of dollars in damages expected to follow the convictions.

Israelis Step Up Arab Fight

By The Associated Press

Israel stepped up operations against Arab guerrillas in Jordan in the past 36 hours with a commando raid that killed three Arabs and blew up 12 houses and two air strikes.

Israeli commandos dashed a mile and a half beyond the Jordan River Thursday night in the first such raid in nine months. They attacked houses in Wadi Jabis which Arab saboteurs were believed to have used.

An Israeli spokesman said the village 20 miles south of the Sea of Galilee was abandoned. He said it had been the target of artillery attacks in the past.

The spokesman said there were no Israeli casualties.

Labels Time Charges 'Myth'

Detroit News Defends Coverage Of Killings

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News Thursday devoted three-quarters of its rear page to a story defending its coverage of two interracial killings and to label as a "myth" an account by Time magazine of Detroit News coverage.

The afternoon daily also said the President's Commission on Civil Disorders was responsible for perpetuating "other myths" about newspaper coverage of one of the killings.

The Time story in question appeared in the magazine's May 9 issue. It told of a demonstration by about 125 persons last week against the News.

The leader of the pickets read a statement in front of the News Building, accusing the paper of becoming "a diabolical menace because of its racially inflammatory editorials, features and distorted reportings."

Time Wrong
Time said, "The protesters cite front-page stories that appeared in the News for six days about a policeman's son fatally stabbed by a Negro; only one inside story appeared when a black man was killed defending his wife against a gang of white youths bent on rape."

In its rebuttal, the News said, "The protesters are wrong and so is Time."

The man killed defending his pregnant wife in a city park was Daniel Thomas, 24, of Detroit. The killing occurred June 24, 1967.

"The News printed a detailed story on Page One that day in all editions," the paper said. "On the next day, a Sunday, the News printed another long story on Page 2. An inside page story appeared on Monday."

"When the trial occurred," the paper added, "the News covered it from the beginning and ran detailed stories daily. In all, it ran 22 stories on the case. Three appeared on Page One."

Ran 13 Stories

The policeman's son who was stabbed fatally was George Overman Jr., 15, of Detroit, who was killed April 21, 1967, in Cobo Hall in Detroit after being robbed of $2.

"The News ran 13 stories about the case, six on the front page," the paper said.

Time said, "In a crusade against street crime, the News runs a daily box score of such (street) attacks and provides details of the worst of them in adjoining stories that identify the race of the assailant. Most of them are Negroes. The paper's critics contend that the crusade overplays black crime and feeds racial hatreds."

The magazine said the practice of carrying such stories "angers a significant part of the community. The atmosphere is so ominous that the News now

Grand Ole Op'ry Coming June 6

The Escanaba Athletic Field Improvement Committee will sponsor a benefit performance of the Grand Ole Op'ry Friday, June 6, at the William W. Oliver Auditorium in the Junior High.

Roy Drusky and the Loners with the Harden sisters, Robbie and Arlene, will highlight the two-hour performance.

First show is scheduled at 7 p. m. with a second performance at 9:30 p. m. Tickets are on sale at Ernie's Party Store and Gust Asp's or may be purchased at the door. Out-of-town persons may write to P. O. Box 170, Escanaba, for ticket information.

Roland Collins, chairman of the Athletic Field Improvement Committee, has announced fund raising activities to light the field will center primarily on an extensive campaign to reach alumni and friends of Escanaba Area High School to appeal for contributions. A newsletter has been prepared and will be mailed soon.

Other fund raising activities will be announced as they are scheduled. Committee chairmen hope that the public's immediate response will be great enough to make the project a reality by this fall.

Escanaba High School has traditionally played football on Saturday afternoons, and previous lighting efforts were stymied by a lack of school board support. However, the present Board of Education sanctioned the drive so Escanaba can join the growing list of schools with lighted athletic facilities, Collins said.

Gwynn High School has been involved in a couple of close golf matches this past week, coming out on top of one of them. On Monday, the Model Towners edged Norway 295 to 297 and Tuesday they fell to the Holy Name Crusaders 287 to 288. The Model Towners were 4-4 after the Holy Name match.

Who says pro football players are rough and mean? Ed Moersch of 1114 Second Ave. S., Escanaba, will never believe anyone who tells him that, anyway. Recently Moersch was at Masonville doing some fishing and when he arrived at the boat landing, he noticed that the rear tire on his car was flat. After taking the jack and spare tire from the trunk, this big, hulking gentleman approached him and said that he would change the tire. After the tire was changed the man walked away and another man came up to Moersch and asked him if he knew who changed his tire. Not knowing who he was, Moersch was told that the man was Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears, who had appeared in Escanaba only a few nights before to speak at a banquet at St. Anne's School.

Tom Krawczyk, a 1967 graduate of Central Michigan University has recently been called up to the triple A Tulsa team in the American Association. Krawczyk, a shortstop, signed with the Chicago Cubs after graduation and was previously on the roster of San Antonio in the double A Texas League. Tulsa is a farm team of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Fred Boddy, formerly of Escanaba, has resigned his coaching position at Bay Port High School in Green Bay. Boddy, who came to Bay Port after two successful years at Marquette Bishop Baraga, accumulated an 11-48 record in his three year stay. This past season his basketball team finished with an 0-19 record. His future plans are indefinite.

Four first place finishes by Bob Leanes were not enough for Marquette Bishop Baraga in a recent quadrangular track meet with Eben, Trenary and Perkins. Eben took top honors in the meet with 69½ points, followed by Trenary with 62, Bishop Baraga 54 and Perkins 12½. Leanes finished first in the pole vault, long jump, high jump and the 100-yard dash.

Dr. W. H. Huron scored the first hole-in-one of the season at the Pine Grove Country Club at Iron Mountain Saturday afternoon when he aced the 180-yard No. 7 hole. Huron used a 3-wood to score the first hole-in-one in his life.

Fishermen, a great new book entitled "Fisherman's Guide to Michigan Fishies" will soon be on sale in local stores. The book describes 201 species of fishes, practically every species known to occur in the state and surrounding areas. The book was written for fishermen by R. H. Cumley, Ph.D., and the species are arranged as a fisherman would arrange them, as game, pan and food, commercial, trash and bait.

Football fans who are avid followers of the "Packerama" TV show will get a chance to watch another Packer great when the show resumes this fall. Jerry Kramer, host of the show for the past three years, has decided to give up the show and will be replaced by Bart Starr. Kramer has not made up his mind whether he would be back to play with the Packers next season.

Dewey Bellisle, one of the all-time athletic greats at Menominee High School, has signed an aid tender to attend Northern Michigan University. Bellisle's tender is a full athletic scholarship for basketball at NMU. At Menominee, Bellisle was a starter for four years and finished his career with 1,123 points to become the second highest scorer in school history.

A possible Big Ten punting duel could happen next fall involving kickers from Great Northern Conference schools. Pat Miller of Menominee, who originally went to Michigan State on a basketball scholarship, has been one of the leading punters in Spartan drills this spring and Rudy Steiner, former Iron Mountain star, is bidding for the No. 1 quarterback job at the University of Wisconsin. Steiner has been booming some long punts in spring drills and could very well emerge as the Badgers' punter next fall. Miller handled all the punting for the Spartans in a recent scrimmage. He punted for both teams.

Little League Managers Make Annual Selections

In a lengthy four hour meeting last night, Little League managers completed most of the early season business of drafting players for the 1969 campaign.

In all 53 players were chosen with a final selection call for registered candidates scheduled for Saturday morning at the Little League diamond at 9:30 under the direction of Angie Hirn, Kiwanis mentor.

This move will also afford a final opportunity for any boy in the ten, eleven and twelve year old group who has not registered and wants to play Minor League ball. Minor League managers may take part in the tryout if they so desire. Boys asked to report for the tryout Saturday are Ron Frappier, Martin Hallett, William Savard, Mark Carlsson, Don Viau, Bob Viau and Richard Rolig.

Teams already selected include:

Local Thinclads Entered In Great Northern Event

Cindermen from the two local high schools, Escanaba and Holy Name, are scheduled to compete with four other schools in the annual Great Northern Conference track meet at Iron Mountain Saturday.

Also entered in the meet Saturday are the defending champion Menominee Maroons, the Iron Mountain Mountaineers, the West Iron County Wykons and the Kingsford Flivvers.

Escanaba, undefeated in pre-conference competition, will be a strong favorite to capture the championship as will the Crusaders and the Maroons.

The Eskymos will rest their title hopes on the strength of the versatile Allen Berg, Berg, who competes in the long jump, high jump and both hurdle events, has finished first in all four events in every meet he has competed in this year but one, and in that meet against the Crusaders and Kingsford, he grabbed top honors in three events before losing to Joe Lasnoski of Holy Name in the low hurdles.

Holy Name's hopes will ride with its double threats, Lasnoski and Jim Dubord. Lasnoski has been piling up his victories in both the low and high hurdles this season while Dubord has been the premier dashman in meets involving conference teams all year. These two performers make Holy Name a threat for top honors in Saturday's meet.

Top Pool Players Feted At Banquet

The five top players in the Delta Women's Pool League were awarded trophies at the league banquet on May 6 at the Dells Supper Club.

Receiving trophies were Candy Swetkis, Connie Verhamme, Helen Krause, Sandy Hubert and Sandy Harris. Trophies were also presented to the Buck Inn as the tournament champions and the Arcadia Inn as the league champion.

Berg finished first in the high jump and the long jump last year in the conference meet, in which Escanaba finished in second place behind the Maroons with 63½ points. Holy Name failed to score any first places in last year's meet and finished in sixth place.

The trials and the field events finals will begin at 10 a. m. and the finals in the running events will take place at 1 p. m.

The following records will be the targets Saturday:

High Jump—Paul Miller, Escanaba, 1967, 6'2"

Long Jump—Jim Boyle, Escanaba, 1967, 21'1¾"

Pole Vault—John Vardigan, Escanaba, 1968, 12'4¾"

Tigers To Meet Tough Opponent

DETROIT (AP)—Facing one of their toughest opponents of the season, the Detroit Tigers tonight pit an aging, 33-year-old pitcher with a losing record this spring against a 27-year-old sparkplug of the Minnesota Twins.

Earl Wilson, winner of only one game against three losses, goes to the mound against Dean Chance who sports a 2-0 mark. It is the first of a three-game series between the Eastern Division Tigers and Western Division Twins.

And in the batting category, the best the Tigers could muster against the league's top hitter, Rod Carew who is ticking the ball off the wood at a .396 clip, is Tom Matchick with a .346 team mark. Matchick's percentage, however, was dependent on 26 turns at the plate, compared with the 86 for Minnesota's ace second baseman.

The Tigers also faced a hitting threat in catcher John Roseboro who ranks fifth in the AFL with a .320 average in 50 chances to swing.

"We've got to put something together," says Tigers Manager Mayo Smith, a man with mixed emotions after Wednesday's 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Royals contrasted with Detroit's over-all record of only 12 victories against 14 losses. The Twins have won 17, lost only eight.

Smith says flatly that he means the Tigers have to start winning a few series.

The Twins, he says, "have been going good and we'll see if our club can come on a little stronger."

Smith, no doubt, isn't too cheery about the fact that Minnesota's hitting muscle includes the biceps of Harmon Killebrew among the top several players in runs batted in this season. Killebrew has sent 22 scurrying home.

Tops in RBIs for the Tigers is Al Kaline who has 15. Kaline is hitting at a .296 pace.

Denny McLain will pitch on Saturday night against the Twins and Mickey Lolich will take the mound in Sunday's finale.

Crusaders Win Dual Golf Meet

Like the Escanaba Eskymos, who also played on the course yesterday, the Holy Name Crusaders found the Escanaba Country Club to their liking Thursday afternoon and defeated Kingsford, 305 to 354.

Mike Douglas and Pat Manning paced the Crusaders with a 40 and a 41 respectively. Ten golfers competed in the dual meet yesterday but only seven scores counted in the final total.

In addition to Holy Name's top seven, John Olinger had a 50, Rich Anzalone a 53, and Gary Winchester a 56.

Holy Name—Pete Ross 44, Mike Douglas 40, Pat Manning 41, Gary Kleiman 48, Steve Kleiman 45, Don LeMire 45 and Randy Anzalone 42.

Kingsford—Schmutzler 46, Franson 51, Miller 48, Cummings 52, Clark 48, Cook 54, and Reddinger 55.

MURCER STEALS — Besides packing a potent bat, the new Yankee third baseman Bobby Murcer also knows how to run the bases. Here he is shown stealing against the Washington Senators as Ed Brinkman makes the tag. New York is counting on the youngster to be the next Yankee superstar since Mickey Mantle has retired this season, and the young slugger is coming through in fine form.

Rozelle Set To Step Into Alignment Scene

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle has moved to within 24 hours of running with the realignment ball himself and personally selecting the three National Football League teams that have to switch to the American Football League.

Rozelle made that revelation himself at the end of an 11-hour day of talks with both NFL and AFL club owners Thursday in yet another session of the marathon pro football meetings that now have lasted almost two months and been held on both coasts of the United States.

Admitting that "I don't have a firm commitment from any club" to move, Rozelle said he felt a solution had to be reached by Saturday at the latest and if the NFL owners could not select the three teams "I am prepared to pick them."

The owners have been meeting on a solution to the realignment problem since mid-March.

Bark River Wins Junior High Meet

Bark River finished on top of Escanaba and Gladstone in a junior high triangular track meet held yesterday afternoon at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

Bark River scored 57½ points in the meet while Escanaba placed second with 38 and Gladstone finished third with 30½.

John Kautha of Bark River was a triple winner in the meet, scoring victories in the long jump, the 75-yard dash and the 220-yard dash. Kautha's winning leap in the long jump was 17'1 ¾.

Rick Ansell of Escanaba won the shot put event with a toss of 41 feet.

when they originally sat down in Palm Springs, Calif. They held a second session last week and then reconvened again Wednesday.

The only hard fact that has evolved in the almost two months of talks is that realignment almost certainly will be accomplished by shifting three teams from the 16-team NFL into the 10-team AFL to form two conferences of 13 teams each.

The suggestion for Rozelle stepping in and tapping three teams to join the AFL for the 1970 season arose in an NFL caucus and the commissioner said he was ready to tackle the ticklish problem plaguing the owners.

Asked if he had the power to step in, Rozelle replied: "They (the owners) may give it to me or I may insist upon having it. In that case I think I can get it."

Rozelle said he had spent some time considering his three candidates for a shift but declined to specify any of his choices or speak in other than generalities about what factors would be taken into consideration.

The teams most prominently mentioned in speculation have been Baltimore, Atlanta, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Minnesota and St. Louis, but Rozelle said only three teams actually will not be considered for a move—New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It appeared that if the NFL owners were unable to reach accord by some time in the afternoon, Rozelle then would either ask for or be handed the ball.

"One way or another," Rozelle insisted, "we'll have a decision by Saturday."

Pitchers Facing Bad Year In Major Leagues In 1969

By The Associated Press

The pitching mound isn't the only thing lower for most of the hurlers who helped make 1968 the Year of the Zero in major league baseball. Their records also show quite a drop.

Of the top 10 pitchers in each league a year ago, only Juan Marichal of San Francisco and Oakland's Jim Nash show an appreciably better earned run average and some ERAs are astronomical.

Houston and Philadelphia wreaked more hitting havoc Thursday, with the Astros winning a 9-7 come-from-behind slugfest in the only scheduled game in either league.

Late Rally

They rallied for three runs in the eighth inning and three more in the ninth, wiping out a 7-3 Philadelphia lead and ruining a banner performance by Rich Allen, who walloped a towering grand slam homer and singled in another run.

Houston fell behind despite a 3-0 lead on Joe Morgan's leadoff homer and a two-run shot by Jim Wynn in the third. But they closed in when Jesus Alou cracked a two-run double and Gary Geiger hit a sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Norm Miller began the decisive ninth against reliever Gary Wagner with a single and walks to Curt Blefary and Doug Rader loaded the bases with two out. Alou's infield single tied the score and John Edwards drilled a single to right to win it.

"It's taken us a while to get in the groove, to adjust to playing with one another and to get a little confidence," said manager Harry Walker, whose Astros have won six of their last seven games. "We started off bad and then we started to press."

"I think we'll be all right. We've got three hard throwers in Larry Dierker, Don Wilson and Tom Griffin. If they continue to improve we can be tough."

The pitchers on the other 22 teams had Thursday off to contemplate their woes. For example:

Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 21-game winner and the American League's ERA leader at 1.60, shows an 0-6 record and 8.29 ERA. Teammate Sam McDowell's ERA is up from 1.81 to 3.23 and it took two consecutive shutouts to get it that respectable.

Baltimore's Dave McNally has a 5-0 mark but his ERA is up from 1.95 to 2.70. Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner, is at 4-3 and 2.82, compared to 1.96 in 1968.

Tommy John of the Chicago White Sox is up from 1.98 to 2.66. Stan Bahsen of the New York Yankees—0-6 like Tiant—from 2.06 to 5.50. Joe Horlen of the White Sox from 2.37 to 3.60 and New York's Mel Stottlemyre and Oakland's John "Blue Moon" Odom from 2.45 to 2.64 and 2.84, respectively.

Nash, however, is down from 2.28 to 1.86 with a 3-1 record.

Gibson Sharp

Over in the National League, Bob Gibson of St. Louis has a superb 1.94 ERA, but it was a record-setting 1.12 last season, when he spun 13 shutouts.

San Francisco's Bob Bolin is up from 1.98 to 4.75. Pittsburgh's Bob Veale from 2.06 to 3.82. Jerry Koosman of the New York Mets from 2.08 to 3.57 and Steve Blass of the Pirates from 2.13 to 6.82.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, author of a record 38 consecutive scoreless innings last year, has a sore arm, as well. Tom Seaver of the Mets and Ray Washburn of the Cardinals are virtually the same, 2.20 to 2.28 for Seaver and 2.26 to 2.50 for Washburn. But Gaylord Perry of the Giants has jumped from 2.44 to 3.12.

Marichal, who won 26 games last year, has a 4-2 record and his ERA is 1.98, compared to last season's 2.43.

The people doing the hitting also have some strange names. The leading batters include Coco Laboy of Montreal, Chuck Harrison of Kansas City, Mike Hegan of Seattle and Bobby Murcer of the Yankees, none of whom was in the majors a year ago.

A DOUBLE LOSS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Trainer Phil Johnson suffered an unusual experience at Hialeah this winter. He entered Private Park and French Corners in the same claiming race. Both were claimed for $25,000 each.

Redskins Sign Cage Coach

HERMANSVILLE — Dennis Bartono of Negaunee has been signed to replace Dwight Castelaz as head basketball coach at Hermansville High School. Bartono graduated from Northern Michigan University in January of 1969 with a major in physical education and minors in history and biology. He is presently teaching in the Eben Public Schools.

Bartono is married and graduated from Negaunee St. Paul in 1964. While in high school, he participated in several high school sports.

Castelaz resigned his position to accept a post in the Norway-Vulcan Area School for the coming school year. Under his guidance, the Redskins turned in 10-8 season record before bowing to Powers-Spalding in the first game of the Class D District Tournament at Powers. He was in first year as head coach last season after taking over the reins from Don Hill, who also went to the Norway-Vulcan school. Castelaz coached the Redskin Junior Varsity before taking over the head job.

Revised Recreation Bill Reported Out

LANSING (AP) — A compromise $100 million recreation bill, spelling out a 70-30 ratio for state to local control of funds, but allocating some $50 million for urban projects, now is before the House.

The bill, drafted Thursday by the House Conservation Committee, headed a lengthy list of measures that poured out of committees struggling to meet a midnight deadline for action on a record number of proposals introduced in the first months of the session.

Rep. Warren Goemaere, D-Roseville and conservation co-chairman, said the revised recreation bond bill is an attempt to resolve the controversy surrounding Gov. William Milliken's recommendation. The governor urged the voter-approved fund be divided on a 30-40-30 basis between local areas and Natural Resources Department projects with an extra supplement for urban areas of more than one million population.

Protest

Legislators, conservationists and sportsmen protested that Milliken's guidelines disregarded promises made during the Romney Administration that state projects would get $70 million.

Bills meeting both specifications already have been reported out by the Senate Conservation Committee.

The revised House measure, essentially the work of Goemaere, Chairman Thomas Anderson, D-Southgate, and Raymond Smit, R-Ann Arbor, holds to the original plan: $30 million to be divided among six regional areas; $70 million for the Natural Resources Department to use over the next five years.

Takes From State's Share

Of the state's 70 per cent, however, $20 million would be designated for department projects in urban areas. The total money available for big density population centers, thus, would be half the total fund.

Urban areas seeking grants or loans from the $30 million fund, would under the House bill, be required to submit long-range recreation plans for state approval.

In other developments, the House Judiciary Committee recommended revision of grand jury statutes to allow immunity to witnesses answering specific questions within the jury's scope of inquiry.

A subpoenaed witness could be accompanied by an attorney while appearing. Protection from prosecution for incriminating testimony would extend only to specific areas spelled out by the judge granting the immunity.

The jury, consisting of 13 to 17 members would serve 90 days (two months longer than under current law) and could be extended an additional 90 days.

Conviction for contempt of the grand jury stemming from lying under oath or failure or refusal to testify could bring a one-year jail term or $10,000 fine.

JOSEPH R. FLYNN, 65, a retired short-order cook from Grand Prairie, Tex., is due more than $100,000 from the U. S. Army. Flynn, who was discharged from the Army before he was due for his pension in 1945, has been fighting for his lost pension over three years. Asked about his plans for the money, "I'm going to pay my debts first and take care of my grandchildren." (AP Wirephoto)

Monetary Crisis Boils In Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Another monetary crisis is boiling up in Europe. Once again it centers on a widely expected revaluation of the German mark.

What are the elements of this complicated problem? Here, based on the opinions of experts, are some answers to frequently asked questions:

Q. What is revaluation?

A. When a currency is revalued its relationship or parity to other currencies is raised. For example, a German mark costs about 25 cents now. If Germany revalues the mark 8 per cent—the amount experts say it will be changed—the mark would cost about 27 cents. After revaluation more French francs and British shillings would have to be paid for marks than before.

Q. What are the causes behind the pressure to revalue?

There are different issues but the foremost is that Germany continues to earn more abroad than it spends. It had a $4 billion trade surplus last year and the surplus is expected to be higher this year. Speculators are betting Germany's trade partners will not tolerate this imbalance much longer.

Q. But how could the United States and other countries be better off if marks cost more to buy?

A. The United States has been running a balance of payments deficit. After revaluation of the mark U.S. goods would be more attractive on German markets. The same holds true for the goods of other countries trading with Germany, because the mark now would buy more than it did before. Germans would buy more imports.

Conversely, German goods would become more expensive in foreign markets. After revaluation the price of a Volkswagen might go up. This could make the new Ford Maverick more attractive to American consumers.

Q. Is the dollar under attack in this crisis?

A. No. While the dollar is being used as a vehicle for speculation, the mark is the volatile currency. The French franc and the British pound also figure in the speculation, as holders trade them for marks.

Q. Was the franc weakened by French President Charles de Gaulle's resignation?

A. De Gaulle's resignation may have started the snowball rolling again, but it didn't cause the problem any more than a chronic headache is caused by stopping the use of aspirins.

France has been pummeled by an inflationary spiral since its riots last spring and has lost billions of reserves. De Gaulle's formidable posture on maintaining the value of the franc held off devaluation, but there is speculation a new government might devalue.
